Multi-year license tags gain House approval

ABANDONED HOUSE DESTROYED — Washington C.H. firemen attempt to knock down a chimney with high-pressure water from their hoses after flames destroyed an abandoned one story frame house on U.S. 35 at Camp Grove Road, Wednesday afternoon. Sheriff's deputies said the house had been stripped and all that stood was the frame. The home, owned by Albert Matthews, Rt. 6, had been abandoned for several years. The Wayne Township Fire Department was also on the scene. Cause of the blaze is still under investigation although sparks from nearby burning trash are suspected.

Fry attacks registrars' 'kickbacks'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House has voted to authorize use of multi-year auto license plates in a heated floor session at which majority Democrats were accused of "endorsing" political kickbacks.

The charge came Wednesday from Rep. Charles E. Fry, R-75 Springfield, who offered an ill-fated amendment which would have outlawed a practice of deputy registrars making political contributions in return for their appointments.

He said the refusal of Democrats to accept his amendment amounted to "an endorsement" of such kickbacks which he said "smack of political bossism." Fry's amendment was ruled out of order by Speaker A.G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, who said it was "not germane" to the subject being discussed.

Lancione said he had been "very liberal in allowing the member to attack the chair," but conceded Fry had a right to protest. "But that's the only right he had," Lancione added.

Lancione's ruling was upheld by a 54-34 party line vote.

The debate came on a bill by Rep. James P. Celebrezze, D-4 Cleveland, which would authorize the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, beginning in 1975, to issue license plates good for an indefinite number of years, provided they are updated each year with validation stickers which would sell for the same price as the steel tags.

The measure further provides that the Motor Vehicles Advisory Commission, created by the governor two years ago, be made a statutory agency to include six members of the legislature and 14 appointed by the governor. It also sets up a staggered registration period for buying the plates and after that the stickers. Renewals would come due in the months of March, April and May.

Celebrezze said testimony heard on the bill in committee indicated the license plates probably could be used for four or five years before being replaced. Under the measure, the director of highway safety would be authorized to set the number of years. The House voted down an amendment which would have made it four years.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

In other developments Wednesday, the House State Government Committee voted 15-8 to recommend adoption of the women's equal rights amendment to the U.S. Constitution. That action sent the proposal to the House Rules Committee which is expected to schedule it for a floor vote next week. The amendment still must be considered by the Senate which rejected it last year.

Terrorist attack mars Viet truce in Mekong Delta

SAIGON (AP) — A series of explosions ripped through a crowd of Buddhists at a religious service before dawn today in the Mekong Delta, killing or wounding more than 100 persons.

It was the worst terrorist attack reported in the 47-day-old cease-fire.

The South Vietnamese military command said 17 persons were killed and 88 were wounded, but the deputy police chief of the province said there were 20 dead and 82 wounded.

Most of the victims were Cambodians native to the region, according to Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the chief spokesman for the Saigon command.

Both Hien and the deputy police chief blamed the attack on Communist terrorists.

Hien said several grenades were thrown into the Soai Kiem Pagoda in Tra Cu, a district town in Vinh Binh province 80 miles south of Saigon. But the deputy police chief said the attack may have been made with rockets fired from outside the town.

No arrests were made.

Hien said he had no information on the likely motive for the attack but added, without explanation, that the police and the militia had anticipated trouble. Police forces have been present around Buddhist pagodas in Vinh Binh since a series of clashes there in 1971 between Cambodian monks and government authorities over the rights of the Cambodian minority.

Vinh Binh is in an area of the delta that once was part of Cambodia and a large part of the population is of Cambodian descent. There has always been enmity or tension between the Cambodians and the Vietnamese.

Saigon authorities said a field team of the International Commission of Control and Supervision flew to Tra Cu to investigate. The South Vietnamese delegation to the Joint Military Commission also lodged a protest with that peacekeeping organization.

Slate hearings on crime plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early Senate hearings are in prospect on legislation urged by President Nixon to restore the death penalty for certain crimes and to provide for mandatory prison sentences for traffickers in heroin.

The proposals will be taken up by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee working on an overhaul of the federal criminal code.

The subcommittee chairman, John L. McClellan, D-Ark, and the ranking minority member, Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., are supporting the President's recommendations.

The subcommittee had scheduled hearings starting March 6. However, they were temporarily postponed because of the full Judiciary Committee's hearings on L. Patrick Gray's nomination to be director of the FBI. McClellan said he plans to reschedule them as early as possible.

A bill providing for a broad revision of the criminal laws, introduced early in January by McClellan and Hruska, included a limited restoration of the death penalty and some other proposals similar to Nixon's.

The President said capital punishment "can be a valuable deterrent" to crime, although he did not contend it would be a panacea.

2 POWs freed by Peking join others at Clark base

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — Two U.S. military pilots, the last Americans held prisoner in Communist China, arrived at Clark Air Base today and joined 108 other POWs awaiting flights home. They appeared in good shape.

Air Force Maj. Philip E. Smith, 38, of Roodhouse, Ill., and Lt. Cmdr. Robert J. Flynn, 35, of Colorado Springs, Colo., were flown from Hong Kong where they crossed the British - Chinese border several hours earlier.

Both were shot down while flying in the Vietnam War— Smith on Sept. 20, 1965, when he strayed over China's Hainan Island, and Flynn on Aug. 21, 1967, when a North Vietnamese MIG attacked him near the Chinese border.

North Vietnam released 107 American fliers and one civilian on Wednesday, and the Viet Cong are to turn over 27 military men and five civilians Friday in Hanoi.

That will leave 146 American POWs still in Communist hands, including seven servicemen and two civilians in Laos. All are to be freed by March 28, the deadline set by the Vietnam cease-fire agreement.

Flynn and Smith entered Hong Kong over the covered bridge spanning the Shum Chun border river after Red Cross representative Eugene Guy met them on the Chinese side and signed a receipt for them. Both were smiling broadly, and Flynn was smoking a cigar Guy gave him.

A helicopter took the pilots to a Royal Air Force field where a U.S. hospital plane was waiting for them. Waiting there also was Smith's brother, J.H. Smith, a Hong Kong import-export executive

The two brothers had not seen each other in nearly eight years. When the flier saw his brother, he laughed joyously and reached out his arms to him, then started to cry as his brother enveloped him in a bear hug.

Flynn told U.S. officials that several days before they left Peking, the Chinese took them on a shopping expedition and they bought a variety of gifts for friends and relatives. The purchases were in 10 packages that were loaded aboard the plane. Smith, when asked what was in them, said, "They are to be surprises."

Smith's brother also made the flight to Clark Field.

Severe blizzard stalls talks at Wounded Knee

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (AP) — Negotiations stalled by a severe blizzard were to resume today between the federal government and an occupation force of Indians reportedly running low on supplies.

The Indians say that neither the cold weather nor the food rationing they initiated Wednesday would force them out.

"I'd say we could last three days on the food we have," said Dennis Banks, a leader of the Indian group that took over Wounded Knee 16 days ago. "Each person will have one meal a day."

Another Indian leader, Russell Means, said the need for medicine, including insulin for diabetics, was "critical."

But, Banks said, "The blizzard and the conditions it's causing make us more determined to fight it out. We're used to this. That's why we think we'll win."

Justice Department spokesman Jack Hushen said National Council of Churches observers at Wounded Knee would be permitted to take food, fuel and medical supplies to the encamped Indians.

Banks and Means said no supplies reached the village Wednesday, and charged that the government officials had held up the deliveries.

Talks between federal officials and leaders of the 300 American Indian Movement members and supporters in Wounded Knee failed to materialize when snow and wind gusts up to 50 miles per hour halted virtually all activity on the Pine Ridge Reservation.

Militant Indians have occupied Wounded Knee since Feb. 27, protesting the handling of Indian affairs nationally and on the Pine Ridge Reservation. Federal lawmen have the village surrounded.

Dip in demand for beef not believed to be trend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for the government and food industry say a sudden decline in consumer demand for beef may be only a brief phenomenon rather than something that will have an impact on high beef prices.

A Treasury Department economist said that with the economy "doing as well as it is, the demand for beef is likely to expand in spite of the price."

The decline in demand at the consumer level was reported Wednesday in a survey by the National Association of Food Chains, which said 15 of 16 food chains advised they were ordering less beef last week than in previous weeks.

A spokesman said most of the chains reported their orders were off 3 to 4 per cent, which he interpreted as being significant. But he added, "it could be just a one-or two-week phenomenon ... that is not going to have any appreciable effect on the wholesale market.

"The real question is whether this is going to continue," he added.

But a decrease in consumer demand had not shown up at the wholesale level where packers reported slaughtering 636,000 head of cattle last week, the largest number since the first of the year.

A spokesman for the Cost of Living Council said there was "no evidence that we have seen of a diminishing of consumer demand, as much as we might like to see it."

Wholesale prices for cattle continued at record levels with choice-grade steers selling at around $47.50 per hundredweight at Omaha.

Ohio peach trees in bloom; could be ruined by cold

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Unusually warm temperatures this month are causing Ohio's peach trees to bloom early, and growers are fearful that the crop will be destroyed if the mercury should plunge.

"I hate to be pessimistic, but I wouldn't give a plugged nickel for the chances of a good peach crop," said John Richards of Richards Brothers Fruit Farm in eastern Jackson County.

Ohio grows between $1 million and $1.5 million in peaches most years.

If the temperature drops to 28 or 27 degrees in the next few weeks, the crop would suffer heavy damage, or perhaps would be destroyed, according to Jack Rollins, chief of horticulture at Ohio State University.

"This is the earliest season on record for bud development," Rollins said. "We're about a month ahead."

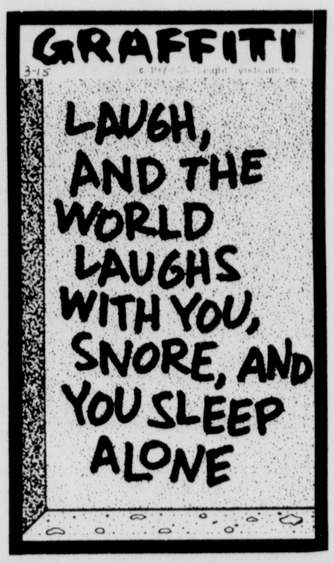

Apple trees also are showing that quarter-inch of green leaves about 30 days ahead of the fragile bloom, but they could take temperatures down to the low 20s and still turn out a fair crop, Rollins said.

Commercially, apples represent $10 million to $12 million in Ohio.

Cherries, which face the same dangers as peaches, aren't a commercial factor in Ohio.

"We got out of cherries commercially because of the harvest difficulties," Rollins said.

Major growers can afford mechanical pickers. Lesser growers can't and hand-picking is nearly an economic impossibility.

Gray could be federal power struggle victim

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deepening conflict between Democratic senators and President Nixon over the appointment of L. Patrick Gray III to be FBI director has to do with a lot more than the nominee's qualifications.

Some senators say Gray cooperated too closely with the White House in last year's Watergate investigation and showed partisanship in the 1972 campaign. They contend this could compromise the FBI's independence and make it into a political arm of the administration.

To others, however, the Gray debate has become one more symbol in the increasingly bitter fight over constitutional authority between the Republican President and the Democratic Congress.

Thus, Gray has become a target, and could prove to be the first victim of the anger and frustration of Democrats seeking to reassert congressional authority and halt Nixon's unilateral moves to cut spending for antipoverty, rural-aid and other domestic programs.

Chances are increasing that the Senate will refuse to confirm the nomination of Gray.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., the Senate's assistant Democratic leader, has been one of the most outspoken critics of the President's impoundment of appropriated domestic funds. He has emerged also as leader of the effort to delay or deny Gray's confirmation.

The feeling that the issue in the Gray case is really senatorial powers has been strengthened by Nixon's refusal to permit public testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee by White House Counsel John W. Dean III.

Nixon contends that for a president to allow his official lawyer to testify before Congress would breach the constitutional separation of executive and legislative powers. The idea is known as executive privilege.

"If the President is going to invoke the doctrine of executive privilege in such a questionable area as this—and by so doing, close the door on information needed by the Senate—the Senate ought to refuse to give its consent to the nomination," Byrd declared after Wednesday's announcement that Dean would respond only to selected written questions.

With Gray scheduled to return for more testimony next Tuesday, a showdown in the Judiciary Committee may be delayed for more than a week.

It could take the form of a move to report the nomination to the floor, to delay it until after the Senate's own, year-long Watergate probe takes place, or to subpoena Dean, who conducted Nixon's investigation into the bugging of Democratic headquarters.

With each passing day, however, the nomination becomes more entwined with the basic battle between the Congress and the President.

And the political overtones are magnified by the fact that future presidents will be able to appoint new FBI directors, a sharp change from the past that saw one man, J. Edgar Hoover, hold the post for nearly 50 years until his death in 1972.

Presidential aides have been firm in repeated declarations that, regardless of what Congress does, Nixon can go ahead with his plans to revamp the federal bureaucracy and act unilaterally to cut off funds for programs he considers failures.

The Gray controversy, however, indicates Congress may have other ways to counter presidential powers besides mandating spending and overriding vetoes. And there are indications that Congress, at last, may be ready to use those options.

Testimony ties Boyle, death fund

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — The prosecution in a trial stemming from the Yablonski murders is seeking to show that the persons who carried out the killings went straight to deposed United Mine workers President W.A. "Tony" Boyle for the payoff money.

Evidence introduced by the government Wednesday at the trial of William J. Prater, 53, a former UMW organizer from LaFollette, Tenn., charged with murder in the case, included two letters sent to Boyle from Albert Pass.

Pass, once secretary-treasurer of the union's District 19 who is awaiting trail in the slayings, requested a total of $20,000 to defray the costs of supposed union organizing efforts.

However, the government contends the money went to pay the three hired gunmen in the 1969 killings of Boyle's union archrival, Joseph A. Yablonski and Yablonski's wife and daughter.

The prosecution further alleges that the $20,000 was funneled into a so-called "Research and Information Fund," then dispursed in small checks to pensioned UMW members who cashed them and kicked the money back to Pass and Prater.

Edith Roark of Middlesboro, the District 19 bookkeeper since 1948, and Howard H. Channel, the UMW comptroller, each testified Wednesday that they had never before seen a request for funds sent directly to Boyle.

Such letters customarily had been sent to John Owens, then secretary-treasurer of the union.

The Yablonskis were shot to death as they slept in their home in the southwestern Pennsylvania town of Clarksville on Dec. 31, 1969, less than three weeks after the UMW insurgent had lost a bitter election battle for the union's presidency to Boyle, then the incumbent.

Boyle, who has steadfastly denied any link with the killings, is scheduled to appear as a defense witness at the request of Prater's attorney, David Rothman.

Joey Heatherton sues over photo

SEEKS MONEY

O. J. Ray, Mount Sterling, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court to recover $2,821.44 he says is owed him by Lowell and Beverly Hines, DeGraff.

The petition states the defendants executed and delivered a promissory note for the amount sought Sept. 26, 1972. Ray charges they still owe him the money.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Betty M. Berwanger, 799 McLean St., has been granted a divorce from Cornelius R. Berwanger, 799 McLean St., on grounds of neglect.

The parties were married March 10, 1962, in Columbus and had two children, custody of whom was awarded to the plaintiff. The defendant will be allowed to visit the children.

SUITS DISMISSED

A suit filed by Maynard Hoppes, Rt. 1, against Morton Buildings, Inc., Morton, Ill., has been dismissed from Common Pleas Court. The parties reached a mutual settlement.

Hoppes had contracted with the defendants for the construction of an implement building, according to the petition. He charged that the defendants made the building too small despite their knowledge of the structure's intended use.

Morton Buildings agreed to modify the building at its own expense.

A suit filed by Midwestern Indemnity Co., Cincinnati, and James D. Hacker, Middletown, seeking a total of $16,000 damages, has been dismissed. The defendants were Brothers Trucking Co., Dayton, William T. Spradlin, Dayton and James W. Carter, Vandalia.

The plaintiffs had sought damages it said were brought about by the negligence of defendant Carter, in connection with a traffic accident.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Continued mild weather accompanied by unseasonably higher temperatures were on the Ohio weather picture today.

Mostly cloudy skies prevailed through the night across the state with rain and occasional thundershowers which produced locally heavy rainfall earlier. The rains prompted flash flood watches to be posted over portions of the state.

The most serious threat of flooding ended by midnight as the thundershowers continued eastward into Pennsylvania and New York.

Rainfall amounts ranged from less than one quarter inch in the south to nearly an inch and a half at some northern locations. The heavier amounts officially reported were 1.46 inches at Akron-Canton and 1.44 inches at Youngstown.

The frontal system that produced the shower activity now lies east of Ohio. Southeast Ohio may still be close enough to the frontal zone to get a few showers and possibly thundershowers during the morning hours. Skies are expected to become sunny in the northwest but remain partly cloudy over the southeast half of the state.

Mild temperatures were again the rule during the night. By 6 a.m. temperatures ranged from the mid 50s to the mid 60s. The mercury will climb to near the 70 degree mark in the north and highs in the lower and middle 70s can be expected in the south this afternoon.

A chance of showers Saturday through Monday. Lows Saturday and Sunday in the 30s. And from the upper 30s to mid 40s Monday. Highs from the upper 40s to mid 50s Saturday and from the mid 50s to mid 60s Sunday and Monday.

School lunch vote nears

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House was expected to receive and give final legislative approval today to a school lunch bill that would require the Agriculture Department to pay cash to schools that did not receive promised donations of foodstuffs this school term.

The bill was approved by voice vote of the Senate Wednesday, and then sent to a House-Senate conference where technical difficulties with a House version were worked out. The conference agreement was approved by the Senate.

The bill was designed to supplement a school lunch program approved by Congress last year.

Stock prices drift lower

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices drifted lower today amid investor concern over the international monetary situation and inflationary pressures at home.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 2.56 at 976.29, while declines led advances on the New York Stock Exchange by 5 to 4.

On the Big Board, Texas Gulf was volume leader, down 1¼ to 22¾.

Metals companies were off after news that President Nixon planned to sell metals from government stockpiles to help drive down prices. Reynolds Metals was off ⅜ to 12½, Kennecott was off ⅝ to 27½, Anaconda fell 1 to 22½, and Phelps Dodge was down ⅞ to 44⅝.

'Blondie' creator dies

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Murat B. "Chic" Young, creator of the comic strip "Blondie," died Wednesday at Apollo Medical Center in nearby St. Petersburg. He was 72 and had been in failing health for some time.

For nearly 40 years "Blondie" has appeared in more than 1,500 newspapers throughout the world and is syndicated in 16 languages with an estimated 75 million readers daily.

Young once attributed success of his strip to two fundamentals — sleep and food. These were "things everybody does," he said.

Young, a Chicago native, moved to Clearwater 17 years ago from Los Angeles.

"Blondie" has been syndicated by King Features. Fate of the comic strip was not immediately known.

Confirmation vote delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A confirmation vote on the nomination of Mrs. Ruth Farkas to be ambassador to Luxembourg has been postponed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which is looking into the timing of her appointment and her contribution to the Nixon re-election campaign.

The action to postpone the vote was recommended Wednesday by Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo. He said he did not doubt the sincerity of Mrs. Farkas when she followed through with a promised $300,000 donation to the Nixon campaign.

WCH man faces assault charge

A 21-year-old Washington C.H. man is presently lodged in the city jail on an assault charge following an alleged gun pointing incident at a Campbell Street home Wednesday night.

Police said John A. Brown, 21, of 704 Campbell St. was arrested on a complaint filed by Kenneth D. Holloway, 622 N. North St.

Holloway told police that he and a woman were sitting on a couch at 704 Campbell St., when Brown entered the home and ordered him to leave. Brown then allegedly pulled a pistol and kicked Holloway in the chin as he rose from the couch. He held the pistol on Holloway until he drove away in his car, officers said.

Brown is being held under $100 bond. He was scheduled to appear in Municipal Court Thursday afternoon.

Earl Leasure of 607 Willard St., reported that vandals had broken the antenna from his car and also knocked out the vent window sometime early Thursday. The car was parked in front of his home at the time. Damage was set at $35.

Nick Graham of 216½ W Temple St., told police that someone forced open the door to his home early Thursday and ran through the house, then drove away in a car. Graham said nothing was missing from the home.

Nixon challenges senate probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today he would not allow his legal counsel, John W. Dean III, to testify on Capitol Hill in the Watergate investigation and challenged the Senate to test him in the Supreme Court.

"If the Senate feels they want a court test, we would welcome it," the President told newsmen at the White House. At the same time he said former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and Republican fund raiser Maurice Stans are not shielded by executive privilege and would testify and "give good accounts" if summoned.

The Senate Judiciary Committee is holding hearings on whether to approve the nomination of L. Patrick Gray III to be director of the FBI. The hearing has touched often on the investigation of the June 17, 1972 break-in and bugging of the Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate building.

County airport radio beacon to be ready in 30 days

The site for the radio beacon for the Fayette County Airport has been staked out and is now ready for setting the poles, it was reported this week at the Pilots Association meeting at the airport. A beacon frequency was assigned sometime ago and a letter was received last week from the Federal Aviation Agency setting aside air space for the beacon.

The beacon committee, composed of President Tom Preston, Charles Dodds and Maurice Hopkins reported they expect the beacon to be in operation within 30 days.

Plans for the Pilots Association stag party later this month in the Country Club were discussed and Jim Vess, Bill Dennis and Norman Merritt were named to the committee on arrangements.

At the time of this meeting, the association had 31 paid up members.

After the business session, Bill Straus of the Cincinnati General Aviation District office presented a program on safety and prevention of accidents. He said that during the past year, 1,322 fatalities in general aviation were recorded and that during the same time 820 people were killed in bicycle accidents and 2,330 were killed in motorcycle mishaps.

Straus also discussed the new aviation regulations, which are to become effective in the near future.

Forest Shade Grange has inspection

The annual inspection of Forest Shade Grange was held Tuesday night at the Grange Hall in New Martinsburg. Grange master Winthrop Morgan conducted the inspection, on which the grange scored 839 of a possible 1,000 points.

The Grange's second degree was also presented for inspection by worthy master Mrs. Robert Ritter and its other officers.

Welcomed into the Grange as new members were the Rev. and Mrs. Cloyce Copley, formerly members of the Liberty Grange, Union County.

The charter was draped in honor of John Alley, a golden sheaf member of the Grange.

Mrs. Florence Bethard presented a literary program with "America" as its theme.

In other business, a contribution to the Grange's national youth fund was made, and members were reminded of a sewing and baking contest scheduled for the next meeting, April 10.

It was also announced that the men of Forest Shade Grange will clean litter from along township roads March 31.

Stiff term for convicted drug pusher

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A jail sentence without parole for 42 years is what faces Carlos Aleman Jr. of Chicago, Ill., following a drug conviction Wednesday.

Aleman, the key figure in what police call the largest heroin buy ever made here, was given a 50-to-100 year sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary by Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Judge John Patton.

A jury had found Aleman, 36, guilty of conspiracy to violate Ohio's narcotics laws, possession for sale, and sale of 18.4 ounces of heroin valued at $264,600.

Patton said the sentence was "not severe enough" because "pushers like Aleman" cause young people to commit other crimes to support a habit.

"They (pushers) can care less about young people who take an overdose and kill themselves," said Patton. The judge said he had sent four men to the Ohio Reformatory earlier this week for crimes they committed to support a habit.

Police testified during the trial that they had seen Aleman's agent, Arnasta Cortez, 45, of Chicago, deliver the heroin to an undercover agent in the lobby of a downtown motel Oct. 1, 1971. Cortez is awaiting trial.

Patton turned down a defense request that Aleman be freed on bond pending an appeal.

Longer race agreed upon by Delta Queen and Belle

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Grudgingly, the captain of the riverboat Delta Queen has agreed to the 10th annual race with the Belle of Louisville, but only after the race was lengthened.

Capt. Ernest Wagner said last year, after losing the fourth time in a row at Louisville, that there might not be a race this year.

"Aw," said Wagner following the new agreement, "I was kind of disgusted, after losing four in a row."

The race, to be held May 2, was lengthened from seven to 10 miles in an agreement Wednesday in the Green Lines office with the Belle's Capt. Charles Brasher.

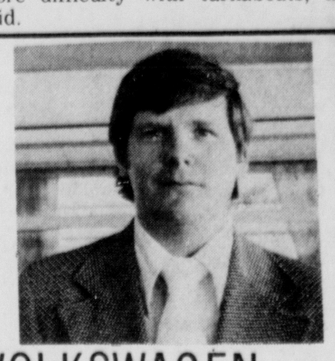

Green Lines owns the Delta Queen, the only remaining overnight passenger carrying river boat plying the Ohio, Missouri and Mississippi rivers.

Wagner's complaint was that the Belle had an advantage in shorter races because of her maneuverability. The Belle of Louisville weighs 350 tons while the Delta Queen weighs 580.

The larger sternwheeler needs a longer distance to gain speed and had more difficulty with turnabouts, he said.

QA40 4-Channel Decoder/Stereo Amplifier

Four channel sound is Discrete when all four channels of information are separately recorded and maintained through playback; Matrix when four channels of information are encoded to two, for recording or broadcasting, then decoded to four at the listening end; or, Synthesized when two channels of stereo are restructured by electronic circuitry to simulate four channel sound.

By adding this General Electric Four Channel Decoder/Stereo Amplifier and two speakers to a basic stereo system, you can listen to SQ discs, other matrix discs, encoded FM broadcasts, discrete four channel tapes and synthesized four channel sound.

When encoded information reaches the decoder in the QA40, the information is decoded into a 4-channel format. Each of the four separate signals is then amplified (two with the existing amplifier and two with the QA40). Each signal is then sent to its respective speaker.

Exclusive Early Vance Spurr Red Delicious APPLE TREES
The Sensational DOUBLE DWARF That Gives You More Apples Per Tree!

NOW! Enjoy Full Size Apples on Dwarf Trees

YOU'LL WANT TO be the first to grow the brand new apple! It offers many, many advantages, whether you are growing a few apples for home use or commercially for the market. It is a superior red Delicious in shape. It's a luscious red without any stripes!

IT WILL GROW and produce well in every apple growing area in the United States.

THE EARLY VANCE SPURR was developed and pattented by Dr. Joseph Norton at Auburn Nursery, in Auburn, Alabama. Mich-O-Tenny nurseries are exclusive nationwide distributors for this Early Vance Spurr Red Delicious.

HERE'S WHY this apple is different. The fruit grows on many spurs set closely along each limb. YOU'LL HAVE APPLES ALL THE WAY OUT EACH LIMB; not just on the end of the branches. So more apples per tree! This habit of growth and fruiting naturally dwarfs the tree.

THE EARLY VANCE SPURR IS A SPORT (a natural occuring mutation) of the regular Vance Red Delicious. Tests have proven that the Early Vance Spurr performs tremendously when budded to Malling-Merton 106 understock. That's the way the double dwarf tree is produced. These apples will ripen 10 days to 2 weeks before the regular Vance Red Delicious.

THIS DOUBLE DWARF Spurr type red delicious will begin producing heavily 2 or 3 years after you set the trees. This gives you a quick return on your investment. Isn't this what you really want in an apple tree?

PRICE: Each 2 for

Opinion And Comment

Probe of pesticide control

The bold front put up by California authorities when contamination of lettuce by a pesticide called Monitor 4 first came to light has crumbled under later developments. The federal Environmental Protection Agency's ban on use of this pesticide on lettuce is the latest and most conclusive evidence that state officials had sought to unduly minimize the seriousness of the situation.

Their concern lest California lettuce be given a bad name across the nation is doubtless natural. This attitude should long since have given way, however, to the far more important concern that lettuce containing excessive residues of this pesticide be held off the market or called back.

The EPA's action demonstrates that this federal agency is not satisfied with what has been done thus far. On the basis of tests the EPA concludes that "it would be impossible to guarantee that tolerances would be met" were continued use of the pesticide on lettuce permitted. The agency also imposed tougher regulations as to broccoli, requiring that henceforth growers must wait 21 rather than 14 days before harvesting this vegetable after Monitor 4 application.

The situation seems to be in hand now as these orders take effect. The basic problem remains. As the episode earlier this year in California shows, the present system of assuring that pesticide-contaminated vegetables are not sold to consumers is inadequate.

That conclusion must be drawn from the fact that, according to the Food and Drug Administration, excessive Monitor 4 residues - six times the federal government's tolerance level, in one instance - were found on 10,000 cases of lettuce distributed nationwide.

Cesar Chavez, head of the United Farm Workers, first brought the affair to national attention and now is calling for an investigation which would cover not merely the use of Monitor 4 but the efficacy of state and federal regulatory programs. Sen. Alan Cranston of California has joined Chavez in this. Such an investigation ought to be conducted with regard to regulatory practices not only in California but throughout the country.

A WORD EDGEWISE. . .by John P. Roche

When you say 'patronizing snob'

Despite rumors to the contrary spread by, among others, the President of the United States, power has not been concentrated in the Federal bureaucracy by a sinister liberal cabal. On the contrary, Washington moved in as it became increasingly apparent that state and local governments were simply incompetent to cope with the major problems of a modern industrial society. The impetus for concentration, if anything, came from the bottom, from the people and their elected representatives who wanted such socialist frivolities as Social Security, unemployment compensation, trade unions, civil rights, and a decent education.

MR. NIXON, in a recent chapter in his serialized State of the Union Address, accused those who look to the Federal Government for leadership of a patronizing attitude toward state and local governments. We are apparently just a bunch of elitist snobs who fail to appreciate the virtue incarnate in the city councils, state legislatures, town meetings, and other units of non-Federal jurisdiction.

He is absolutely right on one account: we profoundly distrust state and local governments, but not because we are patronizing snobs. On the contrary, we are political realists and, I submit, the majority of the American people shares our skepticism. It is good dirty fun for Mr. Nixon to riducule Federal bureaucrats peering over their pencils (and I might add that winning the election conferred on the President the right to give liberals the leather; politics is a body-contact sport), but on the practical level is he prepared to argue that state and local bureaucracies are more honest, more dedicated, more talented at peering over pencils than their Federal counterpart? He knows as well as I do that in most states civil service is a joke.

To say this is not to deny that the Federal bureaucracy has its failings. It is cumbersome, oversized, and often underworked. (There is what I call the Aid to Dependent Colonels welfare program at the Pentagon which could provide some fat for Secretary Richardson's budgetary surgeons.) But by and large Federal bureaucrats do not STEAL. A cynical friend once suggested that this virtue is founded on lack of imagination, but there it is. In contrast, has anyone been keeping track of grand jury activities in New Jersey?

Similarly, if political virtue resides at the bottom of the pyramid, why does every talented politician make tracks for Washington? To this Mr. Nixon can reply that the habits of a lifetime can be changed, but to take one example — nobody should hold his breath waiting for Elliott Richardson to come home and run for Mayor of Boston.

FINALLY, just take the average American's sense of governmental priorities. Do a poll: ask him (or her) to name 1) his city councilman; 2) his state representative;)3 his state senator; 4) his U. S. Congressman; and 5) his U. S. Senators. I won't waste space predicting the results, except to note that in terms of "participatory democracy" far more Americans cast their votes in national elections than in state and local when the latter are held in off years. And when national and state officials are on the same ballot, there is generally a remarkable fall-off from the top of the ticket — President, Senator, Representative — to the state and local contests below.

In short, the most representative government in the United States is the national government. This is not liberal whimsy, but based on hard electoral data. Beyond that and this is speculation with a liberal bias — I submit the national government is probably the most honest and efficient government in the nation. If this is patronizing elitism, make the most of it.

Hal Boyle . . . Making life worth living

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

Celebrating your fifth birthday with your best girl in an old-fashioned penny candy store with 25 cents in your pocket and the whole afternoon free to spend it.

Having your biggest rival in kindergarten come down with the mumps.

Sunlight bediamonding a wave-rippled lake.

Peeling the dry skin off a healed sunburn.

The taste of onions in anything.

Proving to your beaming mother you now know the alphabet well enough to look up any word in the dictionary she can think of. "Go ahead, try me on any word, Mom. Do you want me to start with dog or cat?"

Pitching pennies to a wall in the schoolyard, because nothing made the principal madder.

Soaping the windows of the neighborhood grouch on Halloween.

One-putting the 18th hole to break 100 on a golf course for the first time.

The feel of soap and hot water after two weeks up front with combat troops.

Digging a cave in the back yard and wondering how long it would take if you dug clear through to China.

Feeling a girl blow her breath in your ear at a high school dance. Am I making this up? Could this be happening to me?

Pushing your baby sister in a carriage and getting pretty prideful when all the girls in the block run up and say she looks just like you.

The affection in a father's hands when he tosses you up and catches you after pretending he's going to let you fall.

Listening to a minister tell you and your bride-to-be what each can expect from the other in a happy marriage.

Awakening safe in your own bed the morning after you return from a foreign war, cheered by the bird sounds and familiar street screeches of peace and home.

Noticing at 16 that the cuffs of the pants you bought last year are much higher above your ankles this year. You may not wind up the runt of the litter after all.

Scrambling exultantly back downhill after climbing the tallest peak in Colorado.

The lasting scent of the first gardenia corsage you ever gave to a girl who deserved to wear it.

Spending endless hours selecting a name for the first baby, and flipping a coin to see what to call all the others.

Unexpectedly at 60 finding the Deity in many more places than you recognized Him at 17.

Of such small moments and portents are our long lives made.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, March 15, the 74th day of 1974. There are 291 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 44 B.C., Julius Caesar was assassinated. On this date — In 1603, the French navigator and explorer, Samuel de Champlain, sailed for the new world.

In 1767, the seventh U.S. president, Andrew Jackson, was born.

In 1820, Maine entered the union as the 23rd state.

In 1874, France assumed a protectorate over the central Indochina region of Annam, which had been under Chinese control.

In 1916, a U.S. force of 12,000 soldiers under Gen. John J. Pershing was ordered into Mexico to capture the volutionary Mexican leader, Pancho Villa.

In 1943, during the Pacific war, Japanese planes raided Darwin, Australia.

Ten years ago: The United States proposed a "hot line" communications system between Washington and Moscow.

Five years ago: There was a stampede to buy gold in Europe, and the London gold market and British stock exchanges were closed.

One year ago: U.S. Senate defeated a bill that would have enabled voters to register by postcard.

Today's birthdays: Singer Eddy Arnold is 55. Actor George Brent is 69.

Thought for today: What's in a name? That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet — William Shakespeare, 1564-1616.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Old flame burns black and blue

DEAR ABBY: Ten years ago, when I was a single man, I was doing some work in the home of a very attractive woman. (Painting and decorating.) She was very friendly and always went around in a thin robe and nothing underneath. Over coffee one morning she told me how unhappy she was (sexually) with her husband. It turned out we had an affair which lasted about two months in the afternoons when her husband was working and her kids were in school. It was no big love affair, it was just fun for both of us and I never saw her again.

I made the big mistake of bragging about it to a few of her neighbors, and one of them must have told her husband after all these years because he tracked me down and called up my wife and told her everything. Now my wife is giving me a hard time, even though we weren't married (but were going together) when all this took place.

Maybe it's a coincidence, but last week two strange men jumped me and gave me a terrible beating.

Abby, I can't understand why this man would want to make my life so miserable for something that happened ten years ago. Can you?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Either he just found out about it or just found YOU. There are some valuable lessons to be learned here. Men who work around women should keep their minds on their work. And those who don't should keep their mouths shut.

DEAR ABBY: When I give a dinner party I do as much as possible in advance because I have no help and I like to spend the cocktail hour with my guests.

What gets me is the well-meaning guest who surprises me with something for my dinner to "help out." It is invariably something which requires a lot of fooling with, like a mold for which I have to hunt up a suitable serving platter, and then unmold it, or a loaf of unsliced French bread from which I am supposed to make garlic bread.

I hate to sound like an ingrate, but please, Abby, tell these people who are thoughtlessly thoughtful that if they want to bring something to please bring it ready to serve.

BOLLOXED IN BOTHELL

DEAR BOLLOXED: Will do. And that includes sweet corn, husks and all, freshly picked from "our" garden. Or worse yet, home grown spinach.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 16

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Mars influences somewhat adverse. Avoid risks and impulsiveness. Make no hasty decisions and curb spending.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

A good day for achievement. You should not only gain through regular activities, but may even have an opportunity to cash in on an avocational skill.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Mercury influences fine! Now's the time to launch new ventures, set forth your ingenious ideas and make decisions involving future activities.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Don't make changes in present undertakings — especially if others are involved — without careful thought and consideration for associates.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Some challenges indicated now, but you have the intellect and talent to best them. This day's efforts will be important to the future.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Your creative ideas may need some revision before they can be carried out, so be sure to study all angles of feasibility before presenting them.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

There are tendencies now to take off on tangents and to ease up in effort just when more persistence is needed. Don't fail yourself by yielding to such inclinations.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Your intuition and fine judgment in familiar activities will be a boon in tight spots now. You COULD try something new if so inclinded, but don't go beyond your depth.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A good day for starting or developing new business associations. An unusual idea could spark a brand new approach in career matters, as well.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

You may face keen competition now, but your abilities will be stimulated if you believe in yourself and make the best of your many fine talents. Direct activities thoughfully.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A gigantic step may not be necessary; several smaller ones may bring you to your goals with surer footing, help you to launch the unusual with enduring success.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

You will have access to some extraordinary gains now if you move with forethought and know-how. Neptune, propitious, stimulates your intuition and quick thinking.

YOU BORN TODAY have a multitude of talents with which to build a rich, rewarding life. Intellectually inclined, you would make an outstanding writer, educator or scientist. Politics may appeal to you and, if so, you could become a leader of prominence in the fields of statesmanship or diplomacy. You are a true humanitarian, filled with compassion for the helpless and the underprivileged; would shine as a leader in any institution devoted to the care of the young, the aged or the sick. In your personal life, this sympathy for the afflicted could let you be "taken in," if not careful. Try to discriminate between real need and exploitation of your charitable impulses.

See gasoline shortage

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania faces a serious gasoline shortage this summer that could force fuel companies to limit deliveries to dealers, according to Commerce Secretary Walter Arader.

"No one is planning rationing," Arader said Tuesday. "At this point, no one has determined what the course of action will be. But I'm guessing the oil companies will probably allocate supplies to their customers on the basis of last year's use.

"Then it would be up to the individual dealers to allocate their supply."

Arader appeared before the House Business and Commerce Committee to support a bill creating a Pennsylvania Energy Council. The commerce secretary would chair the 11-member council.

Arader later told a reporter he would "deplore" gas rationing although such a step may be required.

Chrysler hits emission regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chrysler Corp., in a significant departure from General Motors and Ford, has questioned the ability of Detroit to control harmful auto exhausts through the use of chemically activated antipollution devices.

S. L. Terry, environmental and safety-relations vice president for the nation's third-largest automaker, told the Environmental Protection Agency Tuesday that the devices, called catalytic converters, "are not ready to be put on cars."

All three firms said last year that the best means of meeting proposed emission standards for 1975 model year cars were the converters, which use chemicals to break down exhaust gases into harmless components.

Terry commented during the latest round of EPA hearings ordered by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington.

Terry said Chrysler's experimental converters had broken down in tests and would not be able to perform adequately in normal car use.

Solon lamed by exercises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Griffin's efforts to keep fit and trim has him limping.

The Michigan Republican hobbled into the Senate chamber Tuesday with the explanation that he suffered a muscle cramp while doing his daily exercises.

Welcome Wagon Club style show April 4

'FAMILY FASHIONS AND FUN NIGHT' — This is the caption being placed on posters made by (left to right) Mrs. Kay Hall, Mrs. Margie Engle and Mrs. Linda Shaver, members of the Welcome Wagon Club, to publicize the annual style show and card party April 4. The public is invited to attend.

Welcome Wagon Club recently met to plan for the annual style show and card party for 7:30 p.m. April 4 in the Dayton Power and Light auditorium. The models will be members of the club, their husbands and children. The theme for the year will be "Family Fashions and Fun Night." New spring and summer fashions from the New Craigs' and some of their own fashions will be worn. Also wigs from Tops Wig Fashions and jewelry from Boylan Jewelers will be featured. Tickets are $1. and may be obtained from an Welcome Wagon Club member at the door that evening.

The Welcome Wagon Club, organized in 1942, is unique in that members are offered an opportunity to participate in community and city activities. They contribute their time and efforts for worthwhile charitable and humanitarian projects and yet make a host of new friends.

Projects for the past year have included baby-sitting for the Red Cross Bloodmobile and delivering food baskets to three deserving families at Thanksgiving.

The club consists of several activity groups which include bowling, gourmet, needlecraft, crafts, couples club, and a men's card club. In order to join an activity group, a person must be a member of the WW Club which meets once a month. Membership of the club varies as new citizens move into Washington C.H. Ages of members range from young brides to that of grandmothers. A newsletter is sent to members each month, reporting activities for the coming month and brief history of new members. Mrs. Gary Casey, 1601 Sunset Dr., is the present club hostess and visits each new resident of Washington C.H.

The style show and card party proceeds will go into the club treasury to be used as needed throughout the year for various charitable projects.

Y-Gradale card party is March 28

Plans were completed for the annual Y-Gradale Sorority card party to be held from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. March 28 at the DP&L auditorium, when members met in the home of Mrs. Ed Fisher. Mrs. Paul Pope announced that homemade candies and soft drinks will be available and tickets may be purchased for $1 from any member or Mrs. Pope, or at the door. The public is invited to attend.

Proceeds from the card party will be used to clothe a senior girl at the Children's Home, and to purchase birthday gifts for other children there.

Mrs. William Stoughton presented devotions from the Y-Gradale Year book, and all repeated the Sorority Invocation. Mrs. Jim Kirk, president, welcomed guests Mrs. Lutie Kuhn and Miss Linda Gifford, and announced that membership forms were available.

The nominating committee will have a slate of officers to present at the April meeting, and Mrs. Kirk announced the annual mother-daughter banquet is planned for May 14. Another meeting and "Rush Tea" is planned for May 21, when the new officers will be installed.

The remainder of the evening was spent visiting and playing cards. Mrs. Richard Anthony, Mrs. Carl Wilt and Mrs. Will Braun served refreshments to Mrs. Kuhn, Miss Gifford, Mrs. Ned Abbott, Mrs. Jo Ann Douglass, Mrs. Robert English, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Jack Hatmacher, Mrs. Don Kirk, Mrs. James Kirk, Mrs. Allen Mossbarger, Mrs. John Noble, Mrs. Loren Noble, Mrs. Jack Plymire, Mrs. Paul Pope, Mrs. Roger Rapp, Mrs. William Stoughton, Mrs. Charles Wright.

The next meeting will be held April 9 at the home of Mrs. English.

Mrs. Rollo Marchant, president of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church, conducted the meeting in Persinger Hall Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Marchant led the group in responsive readings and songs of a "Dedication of Service to Others" for the Lenten season. On display was a cube, the symbol of the parts of Christianity — prayer, worship, Bible study, evangelism, social action and missions. She then opened the dube to the flat surface which formed a cross.

The Bible lesson from the Old Testament was read by Mrs. Kenneth Bush, and Miss Ruth Stecher read from the New Testament.

Mrs. Starley Knedler, representing Meals on Wheels, reported on the progress of this new community project which is providing warm balanced meals each noon, Monday through Friday, for the elderly, convalescent and handicapped persons of the Washington C. H. area. Especially needed is help in securing adequate, reasonable housing for low-income and retirement-income people.

Contributions and volunteer help in delivering meals will help in getting this very worthwhile program going, the group was told. A contribution of $50 was made by the association to the program.

Drawing by Van Gogh is found in attic

LONDON (AP) — A drawing by Vincent Van Gogh has been found in the attic of a house in the Devonshire village of Stoke Gabriel.

The drawing is of a house in Brixton, London, where the Dutch artist stayed in 1872 when he was about 20. There he fell in love with Eugenie Loyer, his landlady's daughter, but she spurned him as she was already engaged.

Her granddaughter, Mrs. Katherine Eugenie Maynard, took the drawing with her when the family moved to Devonshire. She was going to throw it away, but "then I noticed the work that had gone into it and decided to put it aside in the attic," she said.

Mrs. Maynard has no intention of selling the picture right now. "I have presented it on loan to the new Van Gogh museum which is opening in Amsterdam in June," she said.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	2 ♣	2 ♥	3 ♣
Pass	Pass	3 ♥

Opening lead - king of clubs.

This deal occurred in a match between Great Britain and France during the European championship. South was the British star, Harold Franklin.

West cashed the A-K of clubs and shifted to a low diamond. East won with the ace and returned a diamond to declarer's king.

Franklin then led a low spade to the queen, East taking the king and playing a third diamond. South won and didn't bother to take the heart finesse. He led the ace, caught the king, and so made three scintillating hearts.

Franklin reasoned that East would have bid two notrump, not three clubs, had he held the king of hearts as well as the ace of diamonds and king of spades.

Since it followed from this that West had the king, no good could come from a heart finesse — and the only hope therefore was that West's king was unguarded.

As the result indicated, Franklin couldn't have been more right. East, however, pinned the blame on his partner for allowing South to make the hand.

When the spade was led by declarer, West had played the six. East contended that, had West played the nine — starting a high-low to show a doubleton — he would have permitted the queen to win the trick.

Declarer would then no doubt have assumed that West had the king, and might thus have concluded that East had the king of hearts. In that case South would presumably have taken a heart finesse, lost to the king, and later lost a spade trick to go down one.

All of which may be somehwat metaphysical — though we do think East's argument was sound. The hand simply goes to show that when an important championship is at stake, the players just can't sit there whistling Dixie.

Gilligan announces crime control grants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan announced Wednesday a $250,000 federal Omnibus Crime Control Act grant has been awarded to Portage County for construction of a Juvenile Rehabilitation and Detention Center.

Mansfield received a $28,753 grant to provide in-service training for local law enforcement officers.

FCC changes proposed by officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broadcast renewal policies of the Federal Communications Commission would be revised substantially under legislation proposed by the Nixon administration.

The White House proposal, announced Tuesday, would prohibit the FCC from setting categories, quotas, formats or guidelines for programming.

Licenses would be renewed for five years, instead of the present three years, and the present FCC requirement for an automatic hearing when a competing application is filed would be eliminated.

Under the proposal, said Clay T. Whitehead, director of President Nixon's Office of Telecommunications Policy, the FCC would be precluded "from restructuring the broadcast industry through the renewal process."

The OTP drafted the legislation.

CIA agent 'told all' to Chinese

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP) — John T. Downey says the information he gave his Chinese captors 20 years ago is "ancient history" and he doesn't want to discuss it in detail.

A reporter asked him during a news conference Tuesday if he had revealed any secrets under questioning.

"I would say I revealed about every bit of information I had," the 42-year-old Central Intelligence Agency employe replied. He said he gave the information during the first nine months of his imprisonment.

Downey, who returned to the United States on Monday, was captured with Richard Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., in November 1952 after their plane was shot down over Manchuria. Both were imprisoned on espionage charges. Fecteau was released in December 1971.

Downey declined comment Tuesday on what kind of a flight he and Fecteau were on when they were captured.

The water of Lake Superior is clear and extremely cold, not far above the freezing point even in summer.

Auditor seeks cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The office of State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson will need $1.2 million more than allocated in the administration's proposed 1973-1975 budget, his administrative assistant said Wednesday night.

William L. Williams, testifying before the general section of the House Finance Committee, said the hike is necessary if the office is to keep pace with its increasing responsibilities. Needs in the next two years will include the hiring of an additional 128 employes, he said.

Williams noted that the auditor's proposed budget would cost $5.4 million the first year of the biennium and $5.8 million in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1975.

"We feel this is a modest budget in terms of meeting the responsibilities of our continuing programs, plus the institution of needed programs ...," Williams told the committee.

He said the auditor's office the past two years has had to operate on a "less than continuing budget" because the last legislature cut its requests by $1.1 million.

POW faces questions

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — After five years in Viet Cong captivity, Army Spec. 4 Michael P. Branch may be greeted at his home in Highland Heights, Ky., with birthday cake.

Branch's 26th birthday is April and his mother says his six brothers and sisters are expecting him home by then. He is to be released Friday.

"We're so thrilled," said Mrs. Charlotte Branch, his mother.

Branch was formerly listed AWOL when he disappeared in May 1968 while driving a supply truck near Da Nang. The Army later changed his status to missing in action.

Army officials have stated they plan to question Branch upon arrival regarding alleged anti-war statements over Radio Hanoi.

Speaking of Your Health...

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Cortisone Is Safe If—

I have been using cortisone for a skin condition for a few months. My mother worries because she says that cortisone is dangerous. Can it be harmful?

Miss L. Y., R. I.

Dear Miss Y.:

Many of my readers express concern about cortisone, which somehow produces a sense of fear in many for whom this is prescribed. Cortisone and the corticosteroids are remarkable substances which have opened avenues for the treatment of skin diseases and other disorders that previously were virtually untreatable.

I believe it is generally accepted that these products virtually revolutionized the science of dermatology.

Cortisone is never promiscuously prescribed. Neither is the length of time for which it is given casually determined. You can be certain that you doctor knows the range of safety of cortisone in your specific case.

Your mother's anxiety can only reflect on you and induce fears that you do not deserve. The psychological overtones so often associated with skin conditions may even interfere with the cure your doctor seeks.

I have polyps of the cervix. If these are removed by operation, can it interfere with the ability to become pregnant? I am anxious to have another child.

Mrs. O. G., Md.

Dear Mrs. G.:

The cervic is the neck of the uterus, or womb. It is a firm muscular part of the womb that lies in the vaginal canal.

Polyps are small grape-like tumors which are almost always noncancerous. These polyps may be caused by chronic infection or some form of irritation.

The removal of polyps is a safe and painless procedure. Sometimes they can be removed by electro-coagulation in a doctor's office.

The procedure itself should not interfere with pregnancy. The presence of polyps, however, and the causes that produce them may be the culprits that prevent conception.

Can neuritis be caused by a vitamin deficiency in a person who has a completely balanced diet? In fact, I am told that I eat far more than I should.

Mr. V. M., S.C.

Dear Mr. M.:

True neuritis is an inflammation or an infection of one or more nerves in the body. Beriberi, a severe illness, is caused by a deficiency of thiamine, or Vitamin B1. Rarely is this deficiency present in one whose diet is adequate. There are other causes of neuritis, such as chronic alcoholism and exposure to toxic substances such as arsenic, mercury, and lead. The basic cause must be found before the condition can be remedied.

Kings Island to employ 1,500 youth

KINGS MILLS — With summer jobs generally pretty scarce today, it is unusual when a company actively searches for summer employes.

However, that's what Kings Island is doing this month.

"Our biggest commodity is our summer employes," says Jack Pobst, the park's personnel director. He and his staff will be hiring 1,500 high school and college students.

Pobst said summer employes at Kings Island are assigned to a variety of positions. They sell tickets, prepare and sell food, sell merchandise, operate rides and assist guests as usherettes, parking lot hosts, information hostesses and security guards.

"It's an ideal situation for some high school students," Pobst said. "If a high school junior or senior gets a job at Kings Island, there's a good chance he or she will have a job here throughout the college years."

Although Kings Island is southwestern Ohio's largest employer of student help in the summer, Pobst has noticed that some students will hesitate or not even interview for a position, thinking that all of the jobs have been filled.

"On the contrary, we are interviewing and hiring young people now and will be hiring throughout the summer," he said. "Just because the park opens in late April does not mean that we will not have openings in June, July, August or the post-season weekends. We will."

Kings Island is accepting only personally submitted applications and interviews at the park's personnel offices from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. Pobst said the pay scale for beginning employes, who must be at least 17 years old, is $1.70 an hour plus a bonus when a student has worked the entire season. Housing is not provided by the park for their employes.

Located along I-71 north of Cincinnati, Kings Island attracted more than two million persons during its inaugural season last year. The park opens for preview weekends on April 28 and begins daily operation on May 26.

An army colonel sent to investigate a slaughter by Montanans of 170 peaceful Indians at a camp at Cypress Hills, Canada, reported there was no law in the region and in 1873 recommended forming a mounted police force to keep order.

Ohio perspective

Farmers face fertilizer shortage

By DEAN SCHOTT
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio grain farmers, who have been living from one crisis to another in recent months, face a fertilizer shortage this spring, said the general manager of a Columbus manufacturer.

Kenneth Probasco of Landmark, one of the largest manufacturers and distributors of fertilizer in Ohio, said he is "most concerned about the shortage of phosphate."

Probasco said Landmark uses phosphate to mix with nitrogen and potash to produce a fertilizer blend.

"There are two main reasons for the shortage," he said. "For the past one and one-half years, we have had domestic price controls and no controls on export prices.

"During this time, many phosphate companies have shipped their supplies overseas for a better price.

"Secondly, there is a very critical shortage of railcars, which are used to transport the phosphate from mines in Florida to Ohio."

The transportation situation, he said, "is doubly aggravated by the late grain harvests" which have tied up the railcars at a time when they are needed to transport the phosphate.

Probasco said, "You can't ship those two things in one railcar at once."

Corn farmers, he said, will need fertilizer in late April and early May just prior to planting. The critical time for soybean growers comes a short time later.

The demand for fertilizer will be great this spring, he said, because the federal government has allowed 40 million acres across the nation to be put back in production to help the food supply and lower food prices.

As a result, Probasco said, more fertilizer will be needed by farmers.

His advice for Ohio farmers is "be sure your supply is dependable and get it early before the rush."

How critical the shortage becomes, he said, "will depend on what kind of season we have. If we have about a month of perfect planting weather, then we are going to have a real demand and that's when farmers will feel the shortage the most."

Americans find limit toresources

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — For two centuries the prototype American, free of spirit, blessed with abundance, believed there was no end to his resources, to his potential, to the means for satisfying his needs and dreams.

Now he is faced with the possibility of having to do without — without lean red meat every day of the week, without the freedom to drive his car wherever he pleases because there isn't enough gasoline to go around.

He watched his country acknowledge its military and political limitations and he sees the dollar, symbol of American productivity, embattled throughout the world. He shudders at his nation's inability to solve domestic problems.

There are, he is finding, limitations.

Forrest N. Shumway, president and chief executive officer of The Signal Companies, a giant petroleum products company, described in an interview with John Barbour of the Associated Press how it was before we recognized limitations:

"The United States has been an energy waster since time immemorial. The philosophy of the people has been built on cheap energy. The utilities have spent their entire lives trying to sell more and more.

"I can remember when we built a building in downtown Los Angeles, we were told by the utility, 'Leave all the lights in the building on. It's spectacular. It'll be good advertising for you, and it costs just about as little to leave them on as it does to hire a guy to go around and shut them off.'

"And this was like 1960," said Shumway, a year in which many Americans first heard of "The New Frontier," the spirit of which was that problems existed merely to be overcome.

Now there is an energy crisis and the electric utilities are urging customers to save watts. Lumber producers are worried about shortages. The federal government says a money shortage forbids spending for worthy projects.

Most other countries never believed that material progress was inevitable, but many Americans still do. Embued with the frontier spirit, they feel that the material benefits are yours if you work for them.

Burkhard Strumpel of the Survey Research Center, University of Michigan, revealed recently the findings of a study of American workers and consumers:

"No less than 84 per cent of our sample of young heads of households (interviewed in Detroit and Baltimore in 1971) expect they will be better off a year from now."

Adds Strumpel: "And if five years from now their standards of living were the same, 58 per cent would be outright dissatisfied."

And there's the conflict. George Katona, dean of consumer behaviorists, reminds us that "not a few individuals, nor a thin upper class, but the majority of families now have discretionary purchasing power and constantly replace and enlarge their stock of consumer goods."

The American dream of material success has come true. More than 11 million cars will be sold this year, and more than 2.5 million homes if you include mobile units. Recreation is big business. Savings accounts are bulging.

"What is known all over the world as the American standard of living does not consist of luxurious living by the wealthy," Katona says in "The Mass Consumption Society."

"What is new is the common man's sharing in the ways of living that in the past were reserved for the few. The common man's ability to use some of his money for what he would like to have rather than for what he must have represents a revolutionary change."

Ducks wiith extra wings grounded by turbulence

LISBON, Ohio (AP) — The eight ducks whose extra wings cause reverse turbulence when they try to fly have birds experts flocking here for a look.

Meanwhile, the men who care for them worry about the advent of good weather—predators killed 19 of an original flock of 29. Not all had extra wings, however.

The eight were hatched by two hens who, with their mates, adopted nearby Beaver Creek State Park as their home last summer.

The extra wings—seven of the birds have four wings, the eighth has three—just at right angles to the bucks' bodies and appear to be off-angle extensions of their natural wings. Ornithologists from several states have visited the park but have had no explanation for the oddi5y.

Park Manager Fred Steputis and an assistant, Louis Cianni, gave the ducks a winter home on the ground floor of an old and roomy barn. The ducks, they say, must be confined for their own protection since they can't fly.

Steputis plans to build them an outdoor house "where we can keep an eye on them, and heaven help the dog, cat owl or people that molest them."

But they are cozy enough now. Cianni installed a brickwalled tub in the barn and set up a "shower" for them: a garden hose hung from rafters above the tub and turned on several times a day. The ducks greet its splashing with excited quacks and a flat-footed stampede.

A sympathic farmer donated 400 pounds of corn for upkeep of the six drakes and four hens, and Cianni provides frest straw daily.

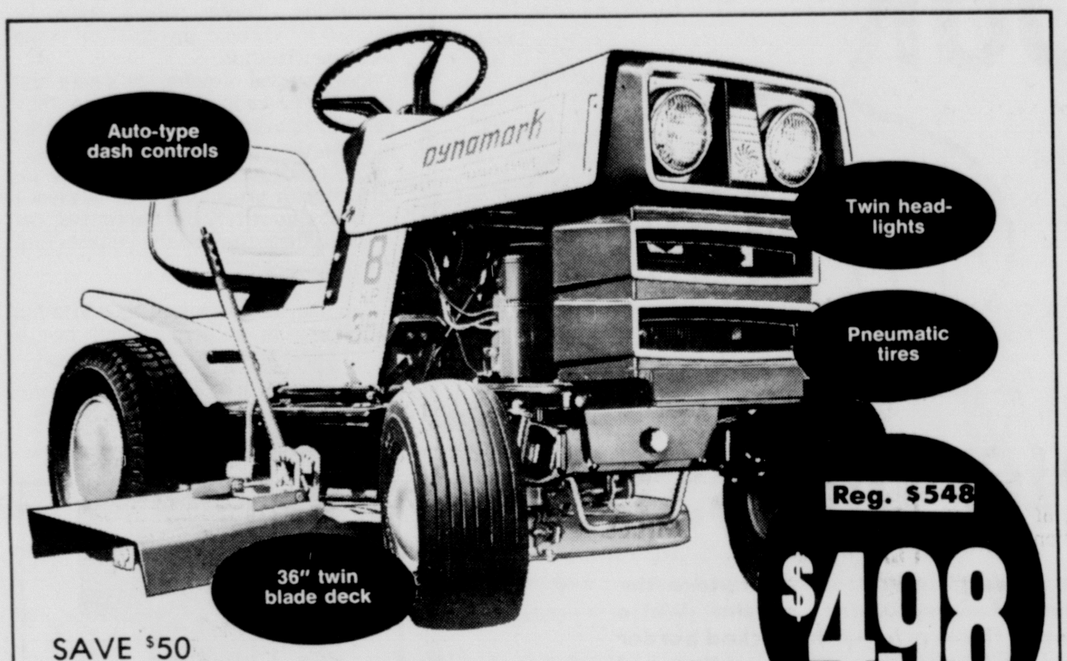

On a world-wide average, fresh water is consumed at the rate of 500 tons a person a year.

Moderate damage listed in 3 traffic accidents

Two drivers were cited in three traffic mishaps reported in the Fayette County area Wednesday by police and sheriff's departments. Property damage was moderate.

Sheriff's deputies charged Edward V. Duffy, 65, of Chillicothe with failure to maintain an assured clear distance following a two-car crash on U. S. 35, near the I-71 interchange, at 3:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Investigating officers reported a car being driven southeast by Rebecca A. Mann, 27, of 717 Yeoman St., was stopped to make a left turn into a service station when the Duffy car skidded on the wet pavement and rammed the rear of the Mann vehicle.

Passengers in both car complained of injuries but were not treated at the time. Damage to both cars was extensive.

Kathleen M. Juillerat, 50, of 586 Trace Court, was charged by city police with failure to yield the right of way in a collision at the intersection of Lewis and Gregg streets Wednesday morning.

Police said the Juillerat car had pulled from Gregg Street onto Lewis Street into the path of a southbound car driven by Helen M. Kelley, 55 Rt. 1, Both cars were moderately damaged.

A car driven by Mary E. Arnold, 28, Lyndon, went out of control on Miami Trace Road, just east of Ohio 41, and hit a utility pole and fence.

Sheriff's deputies said the car slid off the right side of the wet pavement and into a ditch before it glanced off the pole into a fence on the Loren B. Johnson farm.

A passenger in the Arnold car complained of an injury but was not treated at the time. Damage was moderate in the 5:14 p.m. crash.

Industrial development legislation discussed

Nine representatives of the city, the Community Improvement Corp. and the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce attended the Ohio Chamber of Commerces legislative conference Wednesday in Columbus.

The local representatives met with Sen. Max Dennis, Rep. Joseph Hiestand and several members of the State Development Department.

Current legislation and trends in industrial development were the topics of discussion, according to James Dunn, executive vice president of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce.

George Winkle, CIC president, and Jerry Sheppard, Chamber president, both termed the conference a success and said it was "time well spent."

Dunn said the local delegation "accomplished quite a bit for public relations" for the city.

Attending the conference from Washington C.H., in addition to Dunn, Winkle and Sheppard, were Dan Wolford, Ralph Cook, Hugh Patton, Bruce Galloway, Fred Domenico and William Pool.

Consumer survey plan studied

Possible questions for a consumers survey, to be conducted by the consumer education class at Washington Senior High School, were discussed by members of the Downtown Businessmen's Association at their meeting Wednesday.

Various promotions, parking problems and city beautification programs were also discussed, but no action was taken as only five members attended.

Leaking chemicals cause minor panic

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Two leaking barrels of a chemical used to odorize natural gas caused a minor panic in downtown Cincinnati Wednesday.

Firemen found the barrels in a junkyard west of the area and buried them.

Persons working in several downtown buildings evacuated when the smell of ethyl mercaptan permiated the area.

Lee Erwin to give organ concerts

The Washington Organ Club has announced that Lee Erwin, famous organist, will come to Washington C. H. for two special family fun shows. The dates have been approved by the Chamber of Commerce and the City School Board in addition to clearance on the Community Calendar with the Chamber of Commerce.

The first program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, March 22, in the Junior High School Auditorium. Erwin's program will be "A Trip Through the Organ," featuring an elementary chorus from Belle Aire, Sunnyside and Cherry Hill schools with the special music of the Miami Trace Folk Singers and one of the silent comedies by Buster Keaton; "The General."

The second program will be presented on Tuesday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. and will end in time for people who attend to get home in time to see the Academy Awards presentations. Erwin will present his "Moon River" program heard on WLW for over 11 years. The "Moon River" program will feature singing by the Miami Trace Folk Singers and performing some of the songs that helped Doris Day, Rosemary Clooney and other famous people who started their careers on the "Moon River" programs. Special stage settings are to be created by Scott Lanum and Michael Hughes for the occasion and the elementary singers will present Disney music.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the classic first horror film "The Phantom of the Opera" starring Lon Chaney Senior made in 1926 by the original University Studios.

Profits from both concerts will be used to renovate and modernize the Junior High School organ. The Organ Club after considering comments made by various speakers who have urged community involvement, and City Council's request to improve the community, decided to make these family programs possible at the lowest cost anywhere.

Erwin will do both concerts while he is on a tour that will present him on March 23rd at the Ohio Theater in Columbus and on March 24 and 25 in Indianapolis. He will be on leave from Lehman College, New York City, where he teaches electronic and organ music. For 25 years he has been staff organist for Arthur Godfrey on all of his shows.

Area library service planned

Mrs. Jean T. Craig, a member of the board of the Carnegie Public Library, represented Fayette County at the meeting of the Trustee planning Board for the Southwestern Ohio Rural Libraries (SWORL) this week in Hillsboro to finalize the Area Library Service Organization which will be submitted to the State Library Board.

SWORL, now operating under a federal grant which expires May 31, is providing telephone information "hot line" service from the Public Library of Cincinnati and Hamilton County, direct book grants to libraries, workshops, centralized preparation of books for library use, publicity materials and traveling collections of books on antiques, crafts and interior decorating.

Growing pains relieved

The prestigious South Central Ohio League, which has been trying to flex its expansion muscles for about three years now, will add a new member, effective the 1974-75 season.

The SCOL, probably the toughest league in the area between Cincinnati and Columbus, relieved its growing pains a couple of years ago by annexing neighboring Madison Plains as the seventh member.

However, Madison Plains recently decided to withdraw its membership following the 1973-74 season because of internal problems and a decision by school officials that Madison Plains could not compete with the SCOL teams.

AT THE SCOL's winter banquet, the league's Board of Control decided by a 5-1 vote to extend an invitation to Unioto High School in Ross County for membership in two years.

The Union-Scioto Board of Education this week unanimously approved a motion to accept the SCOL's invitation.

Superintendent Ralph D. Brown said the board accepted the invitation by a 5-0 vote and also agreed to withdraw from the Scioto Valley Conference, the league in which Unioto High School now competes..

Unioto, a Class A high school located just off U. S. 35 about two miles west of Chillicothe, is also a member in the Ross County League and its status in that loop remains in doubt due to probable scheduling conflicts.

"We have been considering this for quite sometime. We have been on the verge of going into Class AA the past two years, and we decided if we were going to have to compete in Class AA tournaments, we better be competing in a Class AA league."

Unioto's enrollment this year is 189 students in the upper three grades and it will become a Class AA school next year. Class A is assigned to schools on a figure from 0-189 and Class AA is1 190-399.

Only two members of the SCOL — Miami Trace and Wilmington — are in the Class AAA branch. Washington C. H., Circleville, Greenfield, Hillsboro and Madison Plains are all Class AA schools.

"The coaches, booster club, student body and even the band director were in favor of the move," Brown said. "We just hope we're not going to be a doormat."

UNIOTO BECOMES the third member in two years to withdraw from the Scioto Valley Conference. East Clinton and Logan Elm will be exiting effective this season.

But even with the addition of Unioto, it has only partially satisfied the SCOL Board of Control's wishes to increase the membership to eight teams, because of the Madison Plains withdrawal.

SCOL officials have hinted that the board is considering asking another school to join, but gave no indications.

The principals said Chillicothe and London, which had shown interest earlier in joining the SCOL, have both withdrawn their applications for membership. London will join a new league comprised of neighboring Class AA schools.

An impressive prep career

Chris Wright, the former Washington C. H. Blue Lion cager, compiled some impressive statistics in two seasons at Meadowbrook High School in Byesville.

Wright, a 5-foot-10 senior, landed a berth on the All-Eastern District Class AA first team, an honor he held a year ago also, and was the top point producer in the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference with a 30.5 point per game average.

The slick-shooting southpaw is being touted for All-Ohio accolades. She was named to the All-Ohio honorable mention list a year ago.

In 18 games Wright hit 206 of 404 field goal attempts for a 50.9 per cent mark and connected on 137 of 165 free throws for an 83 per cent average. He scored a total of 569 points and had five games in which he bucketed more than 40 points.

During two years at the Guernsey County high school, he scored 1,078 points and hit 50.3 per cent of his field goal attempts and 80.9 per cent of his free throw chances.

UCLA opens title defense

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The UCLA Bruins, a team with the strongest finishing kick the last six years, jump into the playoff pool tonight to begin defense of their NCAA basketball title.

Not only do the awesome Bruins have tradition going for them—but also the home court advantage.

"I hope that Arizona State, the University of San Francisco and Long Beach are very aware of it," says UCLA Coach John Wooden. "I want all their players to read it and think about the fact that we're playing in Pauley Pavilion."

The top-ranked Bruins have not only been unbeatable at home, though—they've also been perfect on the road. Their record 71 straight victories is the talk of college basketball. So is the fact that they've won the NCAA title six straight times.

"Arizona State has a chance but I won't bet on 'em," said Long Beach State Coach Jerry Tarkanian about UCLA's opponent in the West Regional semifinal test.

Before UCLA hosts Arizona State, Long Beach will meet San Francisco in the opener. Arizona State advanced to the regional semis with a victory last week over Oklahoma City while Long Beach moved up with a success over Weber State. Like UCLA, San Francisco drew an opening-round bye.

Six other regional playoff games will be held tonight across the country in the Mideast, Midwest and East.

Marquette meets Indiana and Austin Peay tackles Kentucky in the Mideast Regionals at Nashville, Tenn. In the Midwest at Houston, it's South Carolina against Memphis State and Southwestern Louisiana vs. Kansas State. Syracuse takes on Maryland and Penn clashes with Providence in the East Regionals at Charlotte, N.C.

Tonight's winners play in the regional finals Saturday night and the winners of those tests move into St. Louis for the championship round March 24 and March 26.

Sam Houston State, which finished the regular season as the No. 1 team in the small college rankings, was knocked out of the National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics Association championship tourney in Kansas City on Wednesday night. The previously unbeaten Bearcats fell 67-60 to New Orleans Xavier, which was helped by a late flurry of baskets from sophomore Bruce Seals.

The NCAA's College Division championships got under way at Evansville, Ind., Thursday and defending champion Roanoke fell by the wayside, losing to Kentucky Wesleyan 87-63.

'Mellowed' Ed Jucker says Bruins 'will think pride'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A "mellowed" Ed Jucker, who feels an overtime loss 10 years ago prevented the University of Cincinnati from a UCLA-like collegiate basketball dynasty, says UCLA will be thinking pride not pressure as it opens its quest for a seventh consecutive national title tonight.

"I think Coach John Wooden's thoughts will be simple," Jucker said, noting UCLA plays Arizona State in the Western Regional tourney in Los Angeles tonight.

"He's proven how great he is," Jucker said. "I doubt if he's feeling any pressure.

However, remembering the shot that reshaped his career, Jucker says the inevitable—a streak-ending defeat . . ."is bound to happen to UCLA sooner or later. After all, they're only human."

It was 10 years ago this month that Cincinnati was on the verge of winning its third consecutive NCAA championship—an unmatched feat at that time.

But a desperation shot at the buzzer by Les Hunter gave Chicago of Loyola the overtime win and the national title. With it went Jucker's dreams.

"I definitely feel we would have cornered the market like UCLA has now," Jucker said Tuesday by telephone from Winter Park, Fla. where he is head basketball coach and director of physical education at Rollins College.

The 51-year-old Cincinnati native says he saw the handwriting on the ball: UCLA was heir apparent.

"I thought then they would keep coming," he said. "They knew what they were doing.

"We beat them by two points in the 1962 semifinals. I remember being impressed with their style. You could tell they were well-disciplined and well-coached," he said.

Jucker, who later served two years as head coach of the NBA Cincinnati Royals, had seasons of 27-3, 29-2, 28-2 when the Bearcats were national powers in the early 1960's.

"I've mellowed since then. And I think I'm a better coach now," he says.

Rollins College finished with a 13-11 record this season, Jucker's first at the school.

Tucker feels that had it not been for a loss to Wichita State, Cincinnati "could have had a victory streak equal to anyone's. We won 27 straight before that loss and 37 in a row after that."

UCLA takes a 2½-year-old win streak of 71 into tonight's game on its home floor.

Jucker says the team that beats UCLA will have to play "superhuman."

With UCLA recruiting reaping the rewards of the prestigious exposure, Jucker sees the dominance continuing even after Wooden leaves the job.

"They have the winning tradition," he said. "And that means so much."

Marion cage squad seeks title sweep

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marion Pleasant continues its bid tonight for a sweep of Ohio's major Class A state championship sports titles this school year.

The Spartans won the first small school football playoff crown last fall and are one of seven teams still in the running for the Class A basketball tournament title.

Pleasant risks its 22-0 record against West Liberty-Salem, 17-5, in a Dayton Class A Regional semifinal contest. Cincinnati St. Bernard, 17-6 faces Pittsburg Franklin Monroe, 21-3, in the other Dayton semifinal.

In the other tournament game tonight, unheralded Holgate, 7-14, tackles fourth-ranked Wapakoneta St. Joseph, 24-0, in the Bowling Green Class A Regional.

Former state champion Mansfield St. Peter's earned a Bowling Green Class A Regional finals spot with a come-from-behind 63-60 verdict over Upper Scioto Valley Wednesday night.

St. Peter's won the 1968 Ohio small school crown, but Hamilton Taft, the big school champion in 1962, wasn't as fortunate. The Tigers bowed to Cincinnati Elder 78-62 in the Dayton Class AAA Regional.

Springfield South, 20-3, seventh-ranked in the final Associated Press regular season poll, earned a shot at 17-4 Cincinnati Elder in the Dayton Regional finals Saturday afternoon with a 73-58 romp over Kettering Alter.

Lion thinclads preview Friday

The second annual Blue and White indoor track meet will be held at the Washington Senior High School gymnasium starting at 5 p.m. Friday.

Fans will receive a preview of the 1973 Washington C. H. Blue Lion track team, under the direction of second-year head coach John Armstrong.

A queen and two attendants have been chosen by the WSHS student body for the indoor meet. The queen is Dianne Kimmet and the attendants are Jill Willis and Johnna Upthegrove.

Aaron after Ruth's record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Old-time baseball fans who were steadfast in their belief that Babe Ruth's hallowed record of 714 home runs would never be broken, now must face reality—Hank Aaron will do it ... barring injury.

The 39-year-old Atlanta Braves' slugger, needing only 41 homers to tie Ruth's longstanding record and 42 to break it, made it emphatically clear Wednesday that he was taking dead aim on the Babe's total— and if he reaches it this season, he will quit.

"If I should get extra lucky and hit 42 homers this season, I'm planning on quitting," he said. "But my real plan, which is more realistic, is to hit at least 42 in two seasons."

Aaron, with a career total of 673 homers, including 34 last season, said his goal this year is 35 homers. That would leave him six short of Ruth's record, and make the buildup overwhelming for the 1974 campaign.

Aaron didn't hit any homers Wednesday as the winless Braves lost their fifth exhibition game, 4-3 to the Chicago White Sox. Tony Muser led the White Sox with three runs batted in, including two with a double during a three-run first inning.

Meanwhile, rookie outfielder Al Bumbry had three hits, including a run-scoring double and a game-winning single, helping the Baltimore Orioles edge the Minnesota Twins 4-3. Bumbry also drew a walk, stole a base and threw out a Minnesota runner at the plate.

Veteran Jim Lyttle, fighting for a berth on the Kansas City roster, improved his chances by driving in two runs and scoring another in the Royals' 3-2 victory over Philadelphia, the Phillies' first loss in six games.

The Boston Red Sox rallied for a 7-6 victory over the Montreal Expos on Ben Ogilvie's run-scoring double in the eighth inning. Cecil Cooper, who scored the winning run, had reached base on a two-run single and earlier hit a solo homer.

The Los Angeles Dodgers parlayed two-run homers by Von Joshua and Bill Russell and six Pittsburgh errors for a 10-2 rout over the Pirates. Joshua's was a 450-foot blast over the center field fence while Pittsburgh's Manny Sanguillen smashed a 400-foot homer over the left field fence.

The New York Yankees scored twice in the sixth inning on singles by Roy White, Graig Nettles and Felipe Alou, a walk to Ron Blomberg and a hit batsman, and went on to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1.

Joe Hague drove in three runs and rookie Ken Griffey knocked in two, leading the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-3 victory over the Houston Astros.

Jerry Grote had two hits, drove in one run and scored another, sparking the New York Mets to a 6-4 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Ivan Murrell and Dave Roberts each rapped a single and a double while Dan Spillner, Bob Graczyk and Bill Laxton combined for a six-hitter as the San Diego Padres trimmed Arizona State University 4-1.

And four games were rained out—the Chicago Cubs against California, San Francisco-Milwaukee, Cleveland-Oakland, and California's "B" team against Oakland's "B" squad.

Celtics win, 76ers lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics won their 60th game of the National Basketball Association season Wednesday night and the Philadelphia 76ers lost their 67th.

The Celtics can tie the NBA record for victories set by the Los Angeles Lakers last season with 69 by winning their remaining games. All the 76ers have to do to set an NBA record for most losses in one season is to lose one game out of their remaining nine.

The Celtics beat the Baltimore Bullets 111-107 and the 76ers fell to the Phoenix Suns 120-114.

In the only other NBA game, Los Angeles beat Detroit 121-122.

In the American Basketball Association Wednesday, San Diego clipped the New York Nets 108-98, Indiana beat Utah 113-106 and Virginia dumped Dallas 125-114.

John Havlicek's four points in the final 15 seconds was the margin of victory for the Celtics. Havlicek made a fall away jump shot with two defenders hounding him with 15 seconds remaining to break a 107-107 tie.

Jo-Jo White tied Havlicek for scoring honors with 27 including some clutch baskets in the fourth period.

The 76ers overcame a 19-point deficit late in the third quarter and tied their game with the Suns at 96 all. The lead changed hands seven times from that point on.

Norm Meyers leads bowling tournament

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Norm Myers, St. Louis veteran whose only title came 10 years ago, came storming from 29th place into the lead Wednesday night as qualifying play continued in the $80,000 Ebonite Open Bowling Tournament here.

The 39-year-old right-hander, who spilled 1302 pins in the event's opening six-game block earlier in the day, averaged over 240 in the second session as he rolled games of 247, 245, 258, 215, 279 and 213. Myers missed only one spare in his second set of games as he toppled 1445 pins to give him a total of 2747 and a 12-game average of 228.

Richard Wagner aide to Reds' Bob Howsam

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— New Cincinnati Reds President Bob Howsam has promoted Richard Wagner to his assistant.

Wagner had been assistant vice president. The Nebraska native was minor league baseball executive of the year in 1957, and general manager of the Forum of Los Angeles. He was director of promotions and sales with the St. Louis Cardinals before joining the Reds in 1967.

Gerald Gottfried new Ashland cage coach

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Gerald Gottfried, a 30-year-old member of the Ohio Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame, has been named head basketball coach at Ashland College, school president Glenn L. Clayton announced today.

Ken Griffey given chance as Reds starting fielder

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—Ken Griffey came to the Cincinnati Reds' spring training camp figuring he had no chance to win a spot on the National League champions' roster.

Now, Reds Manager Sparky Anderson is talking of the possibility of Griffey winning a starting job in right field.

"He could put enough heat on that he could win the job," Anderson said Wednesday after the 22-year-old lefthander hit two singles and two doubles and drove in two runs as the Reds beat the Houston Astros 7-3 for their third consecutive Grapefruit League triumph.

"No one's guaranteed that spot," Anderson continued, issuing a challenge to last year's right fielder, Cesar Geronimo, and newcomer Richie Scheinblum, who were expected to battle for the post.

"No kid should have to come to camp figuring he has no chance to make it," Anderson added. "Of course, Griffey would have to be spectacular down here, and he'll have to figure as a starter. We'd want him playing every day.

"But, he catches your eye with his speed. It's something else. It's so explosive," Anderson said.

Griffey, who comes from Donora, Pa., the same hometown as hall of famer Stan Musual, spent last season at Three Rivers, Que., of the Class AA Eastern League.

He hit .318 and stole 31 bases, third in the entire Cincinnati organization behind Joe Morgan and Bobby Tolan, both Reds stars.

So far this spring Griffey has hit at a .333 clip, a respectable average that could be much higher if five line drives hadn't been directly at the defensive players.

"If they keep catching those line drives it's going to be hard to be spectacular enough to say," said Griffey.

"But I'm just going to keep trying, doing the best I can. I'll give it an all-out effort and, if I satisfy myself, that's the important thing."

Little All-American cagers named

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Green, Louisiana Tech's rebound-hungry center, and James Lister, the heart of top-ranked Sam Houston State, were among those named today to The Associated Press' 1973 Little All-American basketball team.

Joining the front-court bruisers was another talented giant from Louisiana, New Orleans Xavier's Bruce Seals, and two guards — Mike Boylan of Assumption, Mass. and Fred Smiley of Northwood, Mich.

Only Boylan was a previous All-American, making The AP's third team last year.

Green, a 6-foot-10, 196-pounder from McComb, Miss., was an obvious choice for All-American after breaking records by the basketful at the Ruston, La., school.

He started 102 straight games from his freshman year and cracked career marks for scoring average (22.9) and rebounds-per-game (15.4). Green was voted player of the year in the Southland Conference, eclipsing such major college notables at Dwight Lamar and Roy Ebron of Southwestern Louisiana.

This year, Green reached a high-water mark in scoring with a 30.9 average, good for second in the country among small college players. He had a rebound average of 15.7, also leading the Southland Conference in that department.

The senior's menacing presence in the lineup helped Louisiana Tech finish with an 18-8 record and the No. 8 ranking in The AP poll. "He was the whole team," said a school spokesman.

Lister, another senior in the 6-10 range with a little more beef on his frame (207 pounds), was the spark behind Sam Houston State's 25-0 regular season record and No. 1 ranking in the final AP small college poll. His averages of 20 points and 16 rebounds a game didn't tell the whole story. Along with his gaudy offensive talents, he was one of the country's best shot-blockers.

Seals connected for 25.9 points a game and was mostly responsible for putting Xavier into the NAIA's post-season tournament. He's considered by some to be nearly in the class of Green, perhaps the country's No. 1 pro-prospect from the college division ranks.

Boylan, tall for a guard at 6-5, averaged 22 points a game and has been termed "the best player Assumption has ever had" by his coach, Joe O'Brien. Smiley, a 5-11, ball-handling wizard and one of the best shooters in the country, finished with a 31.6 scoring average for fourth place.

The AP's second team consists of Lenard Robinson of Tennessee State; Joel Copeland of Old Dominion; Morgan State's Marvin Webster; William "June" Harris of North Carolina A&T and Hershel Lewis of Winona, Minn., State.

Research essential chemists are told

NEW YORK (AP) — The semi-annual meeting of the Manufacturing Chemists Assn. here heard Dr. Earle B. Barnes, president of Dow Chemical U.S.A. say:

"Research is not an option open to us, like white sidewall tires. It is a necessary component of our business, as integral to our operations as the wheels or axles are to an automobile."

Dr. Barnes said that Dow's worldwide research expenditures, which were $51 million in 1961, grew to $95 million in 1971 and exceeded $100 million in 1972.

BYPASS BRIDGEWORK — Workmen for the W.J. Seidensticker Co., a subcontractor on the U.S. 35 bypass project, work with the assistance of a large crane to position a piling into position before it is driven into the ground as an anchor for a bridge abutement. The work is being done on Paint Creek bridge at Creek Road. Paul Rooney, project supervisor, said contractors were presently concentrating on birdgework since soil conditions were still too wet for other work. The structure in the foreground is a pier in the middle of the creek.

Dates are set for B-I-E programs

Plans for the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce's Business-Industry-Education Day, annually held for the graduating seniors in the two Fayette County high schools, are taking shape.

Bruce Galloway, chairman of the chamber's educational committee which is heading up the planning for this year's B-I-E Day, said the program will be held Wednesday and Thursday, May 2-3, in Washington Senior and Miami Trace high schools.

The educational committee met this week with Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor of the Washington C. H. City schools and Superintendent Guy M. Foster of the Fayette County schools to work out some of the details for the 1973 program.

The committee has also drafted a tentative liet of panelists representing several different professions in the Washington C. H. area to speak to the graduating seniors at the two-day session.

James Dunn, executive vice president of the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce, said all the prospective panelists will be contacted later this week to determine their interest in participating in the program.

Plans call for the sessions opening in each high school with an address from a keynote speaker who will set the tone for the program. Following the speaker's address, each of the panelists will have 10 or 15 minutes to review their particular professions and students will be given an opportunity to ask questions concerning the profession.

A banquet will close the B-I-E Day program on Thursday night. The program will be critiqued and the students will given another opportunity to discuss the professions further with the panelists.

The site and further details concerning the banquet are being completed by the educational committee.

Engineers host district meeting

Fayette County professional engineers were hosts for the monthly meeting of the Southern Ohio Chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers at the Terrace Lounge Wednesday evening.

Richard Keiser, Snow Hill Rd., was the master of ceremonies and introduced Omar A. Schwart, who related some of his experiences during the 12 years he was judge of the Fayette County Probate-Juvenile Court.

There were 22 members and guests. The chapter includes professional engineers in eight southern Ohio counties.

Country singer killed

GOODLETTSVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Carl Phillips, 42, a country music singer and songwriter, was killed Wednesday in an accident.

Columnist against unlimited shield for newsmen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Syndicated columnist Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Tulsa, Okla., said Wednesday it would be "ludicrous" to give newsmen the same blanket protections now accorded to priests, lawyers and doctors.

Jones, editor and publisher of the Tulsa Tribune, said he does not support proposals that would give reporters the right to shield their news sources in all matters.

He said reporters do not deserve the same legal rights afforded a priest and his parishioner, a doctor and his patient and a lawyer and his client.

However, he said he supports a limited news shield that would require reporters to divulge their sources in criminal matters, but would prevent "badgering" by politicians and government officials in noncriminal affairs.

Multi-year license tags gain House approval

ABANDONED HOUSE DESTROYED — Washington C.H. firemen attempt to knock down a chimney with high-pressure water from their hoses after flames destroyed an abandoned one story frame house on U.S. 35 at Camp Grove Road, Wednesday afternoon. Sheriff's deputies said the house had been stripped and all that stood was the frame. The home, owned by Albert Matthews, Rt. 6, had been abandoned for several years. The Wayne Township Fire Department was also on the scene. Cause of the blaze is still under investigation although sparks from nearby burning trash are suspected.

Fry attacks registrars' 'kickbacks'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House has voted to authorize use of multi-year auto license plates in a heated floor session at which majority Democrats were accused of "endorsing" political kickbacks.

The charge came Wednesday from Rep. Charles E. Fry, R-75 Springfield, who offered an ill-fated amendment which would have outlawed a practice of deputy registrars making political contributions in return for their appointments.

He said the refusal of Democrats to accept his amendment amounted to "an endorsement" of such kickbacks which he said "smack of political bossism." Fry's amendment was ruled out of order by Speaker A.G. Lancione, D-99 Bellaire, who said it was "not germane" to the subject being discussed.

Lancione said he had been "very liberal in allowing the member to attack the chair," but conceded Fry had a right to protest. "But that's the only right he had," Lancione added.

Lancione's ruling was upheld by a 54-34 party line vote.

The debate came on a bill by Rep. James P. Celebrezze, D-4 Cleveland, which would authorize the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, beginning in 1975, to issue license plates good for an indefinite number of years, provided they are updated each year with validation stickers which would sell for the same price as the steel tags.

The measure further provides that the Motor Vehicles Advisory Commission, created by the governor two years ago, be made a statutory agency to include six members of the legislature and 14 appointed by the governor. It also sets up a staggered registration period for buying the plates and after that the stickers. Renewals would come due in the months of March, April and May.

Celebrezze said testimony heard on the bill in committee indicated the license plates probably could be used for four or five years before being replaced. Under the measure, the director of highway safety would be authorized to set the number of years. The House voted down an amendment which would have made it four years.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

In other developments Wednesday, the House State Government Committee voted 15-8 to recommend adoption of the women's equal rights amendment to the U.S. Constitution. That action sent the proposal to the House Rules Committee which is expected to schedule it for a floor vote next week. The amendment still must be considered by the Senate which rejected it last year.

Terrorist attack mars Viet truce in Mekong Delta

SAIGON (AP) — A series of explosions ripped through a crowd of Buddhists at a religious service before dawn today in the Mekong Delta, killing or wounding more than 100 persons.

It was the worst terrorist attack reported in the 47-day-old cease-fire.

The South Vietnamese military command said 17 persons were killed and 88 were wounded, but the deputy police chief of the province said there were 20 dead and 82 wounded.

Most of the victims were Cambodians native to the region, according to Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the chief spokesman for the Saigon command.

Both Hien and the deputy police chief blamed the attack on Communist terrorists.

Hien said several grenades were thrown into the Soai Kiem Pagoda in Tra Cu, a district town in Vinh Binh province 80 miles south of Saigon. But the deputy police chief said the attack may have been made with rockets fired from outside the town.

No arrests were made.

Hien said he had no information on the likely motive for the attack but added, without explanation, that the police and the militia had anticipated trouble. Police forces have been present around Buddhist pagodas in Vinh Binh since a series of clashes there in 1971 between Cambodian monks and government authorities over the rights of the Cambodian minority.

Vinh Binh is in an area of the delta that once was part of Cambodia and a large part of the population is of Cambodian descent. There has always been enmity or tension between the Cambodians and the Vietnamese.

Saigon authorities said a field team of the International Commission of Control and Supervision flew to Tra Cu to investigate. The South Vietnamese delegation to the Joint Military Commission also lodged a protest with that peacekeeping organization.

Slate hearings on crime plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early Senate hearings are in prospect on legislation urged by President Nixon to restore the death penalty for certain crimes and to provide for mandatory prison sentences for traffickers in heroin.

The proposals will be taken up by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee working on an overhaul of the federal criminal code.

The subcommittee chairman, John L. McClellan, D-Ark, and the ranking minority member, Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., are supporting the President's recommendations.

The subcommittee had scheduled hearings starting March 6. However, they were temporarily postponed because of the full Judiciary Committee's hearings on L. Patrick Gray's nomination to be director of the FBI. McClellan said he plans to reschedule them as early as possible.

A bill providing for a broad revision of the criminal laws, introduced early in January by McClellan and Hruska, included a limited restoration of the death penalty and some other proposals similar to Nixon's.

The President said capital punishment "can be a valuable deterrent" to crime, although he did not contend it would be a panacea.

Ohio peach trees in bloom; could be ruined by cold

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Unusually warm temperatures this month are causing Ohio's peach trees to bloom early, and growers are fearful that the crop will be destroyed if the mercury should plunge.

"I hate to be pessimistic, but I wouldn't give a plugged nickel for the chances of a good peach crop," said John Richards of Richards Brothers Fruit Farm in eastern Jackson County.

Ohio grows between $1 million and $1.5 million in peaches most years.

If the temperature drops to 28 or 27 degrees in the next few weeks, the crop would suffer heavy damage, or perhaps would be destroyed, according to Jack Rollins, chief of horticulture at Ohio State University.

"This is the earliest season on record for bud development," Rollins said. "We're about a month ahead."

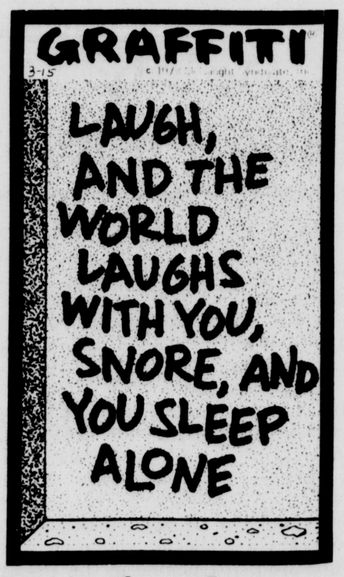

Apple trees also are showing that quarter-inch of green leaves about 30 days ahead of the fragile bloom, but they could take temperatures down to the low 20s and still turn out a fair crop, Rollins said.

Commercially, apples represent $10 million to $12 million in Ohio.

Cherries, which face the same dangers as peaches, aren't a commercial factor in Ohio.

"We got out of cherries commercially because of the harvest difficulties," Rollins said.

Major growers can afford mechanical pickers. Lesser growers can't and hand-picking is nearly an economic impossibility.

2 POWs freed by Peking join others at Clark base

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — Two U.S. military pilots, the last Americans held prisoner in Communist China, arrived at Clark Air Base today and joined 108 other POWs awaiting flights home. They appeared in good shape.

Air Force Maj. Philip E. Smith, 38, of Roodhouse, Ill., and Lt. Cmdr. Robert J. Flynn, 35, of Colorado Springs, Colo., were flown from Hong Kong where they crossed the British - Chinese border several hours earlier.

Both were shot down while flying in the Vietnam War— Smith on Sept. 20, 1965, when he strayed over China's Hainan Island, and Flynn on Aug. 21, 1967, when a North Vietnamese MIG attacked him near the Chinese border.

North Vietnam released 107 American fliers and one civilian on Wednesday, and the Viet Cong are to turn over 27 military men and five civilians Friday in Hanoi.

That will leave 146 American POWs still in Communist hands, including seven servicemen and two civilians in Laos. All are to be freed by March 28, the deadline set by the Vietnam cease-fire agreement.

Flynn and Smith entered Hong Kong over the covered bridge spanning the Shum Chun border river after Red Cross representative Eugene Guy met them on the Chinese side and signed a receipt for them. Both were smiling broadly, and Flynn was smoking a cigar Guy gave him.

A helicopter took the pilots to a Royal Air Force field where a U.S. hospital plane was waiting for them. Waiting there also was Smith's brother, J.H. Smith, a Hong Kong import-export executive

The two brothers had not seen each other in nearly eight years. When the flier saw his brother, he laughed joyously and reached out his arms to him, then started to cry as his brother enveloped him in a bear hug.

Flynn told U.S. officials that several days before they left Peking, the Chinese took them on a shopping expedition and they bought a variety of gifts for friends and relatives. The purchases were in 10 packages that were loaded aboard the plane. Smith, when asked what was in them, said, "They are to be surprises."

Smith's brother also made the flight to Clark Field.

Severe blizzard stalls talks at Wounded Knee

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (AP) — Negotiations stalled by a severe blizzard were to resume today between the federal government and an occupation force of Indians reportedly running low on supplies.

The Indians say that neither the cold weather nor the food rationing they initiated Wednesday would force them out.

"I'd say we could last three days on the food we have," said Dennis Banks, a leader of the Indian group that took over Wounded Knee 16 days ago. "Each person will have one meal a day."

Another Indian leader, Russell Means, said the need for medicine, including insulin for diabetics, was "critical."

But, Banks said, "The blizzard and the conditions it's causing make us more determined to fight it out. We're used to this. That's why we think we'll win."

Justice Department spokesman Jack Hushen said National Council of Churches observers at Wounded Knee would be permitted to take food, fuel and medical supplies to the encamped Indians.

Banks and Means said no supplies reached the village Wednesday, and charged that the government officials had held up the deliveries.

Talks between federal officials and leaders of the 300 American Indian Movement members and supporters in Wounded Knee failed to materialize when snow and wind gusts up to 50 miles per hour halted virtually all activity on the Pine Ridge Reservation.

Militant Indians have occupied Wounded Knee since Feb. 27, protesting the handling of Indian affairs nationally and on the Pine Ridge Reservation. Federal lawmen have the village surrounded.

Dip in demand for beef not believed to be trend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for the government and food industry say a sudden decline in consumer demand for beef may be only a brief phenomenon rather than something that will have an impact on high beef prices.

A Treasury Department economist said that with the economy "doing as well as it is, the demand for beef is likely to expand in spite of the price."

The decline in demand at the consumer level was reported Wednesday in a survey by the National Association of Food Chains, which said 15 of 16 food chains advised they were ordering less beef last week than in previous weeks.

A spokesman said most of the chains reported their orders were off 3 to 4 per cent, which he interpreted as being significant. But he added, "it could be just a one-or two-week phenomenon ... that is not going to have any appreciable effect on the wholesale market.

"The real question is whether this is going to continue," he added.

But a decrease in consumer demand had not shown up at the wholesale level where packers reported slaughtering 636,000 head of cattle last week, the largest number since the first of the year.

A spokesman for the Cost of Living Council said there was "no evidence that we have seen of a diminishing of consumer demand, as much as we might like to see it."

Wholesale prices for cattle continued at record levels with choice-grade steers selling at around $47.50 per hundredweight at Omaha.

Gray could be federal power struggle victim

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deepening conflict between Democratic senators and President Nixon over the appointment of L. Patrick Gray III to be FBI director has to do with a lot more than the nominee's qualifications.

Some senators say Gray cooperated too closely with the White House in last year's Watergate investigation and showed partisanship in the 1972 campaign. They contend this could compromise the FBI's independence and make it into a political arm of the administration.

To others, however, the Gray debate has become one more symbol in the increasingly bitter fight over constitutional authority between the Republican President and the Democratic Congress.

Thus, Gray has become a target, and could prove to be the first victim of the anger and frustration of Democrats seeking to reassert congressional authority and halt Nixon's unilateral moves to cut spending for antipoverty, rural-aid and other domestic programs.

Chances are increasing that the Senate will refuse to confirm the nomination of Gray.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., the Senate's assistant Democratic leader, has been one of the most outspoken critics of the President's impoundment of appropriated domestic funds. He has emerged also as leader of the effort to delay or deny Gray's confirmation.

The feeling that the issue in the Gray case is really senatorial powers has been strengthened by Nixon's refusal to permit public testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee by White House Counsel John W. Dean III.

Nixon contends that for a president to allow his official lawyer to testify before Congress would breach the constitutional separation of executive and legislative powers. The idea is known as executive privilege.

"If the President is going to invoke the doctrine of executive privilege in such a questionable area as this—and by so doing, close the door on information needed by the Senate—the Senate ought to refuse to give its consent to the nomination," Byrd declared after Wednesday's announcement that Dean would respond only to selected written questions.

With Gray scheduled to return for more testimony next Tuesday, a showdown in the Judiciary Committee may be delayed for more than a week.

It could take the form of a move to report the nomination to the floor, to delay it until after the Senate's own, year-long Watergate probe takes place, or to subpoena Dean, who conducted Nixon's investigation into the bugging of Democratic headquarters.

With each passing day, however, the nomination becomes more entwined with the basic battle between the Congress and the President.

And the political overtones are magnified by the fact that future presidents will be able to appoint new FBI directors, a sharp change from the past that saw one man, J. Edgar Hoover, hold the post for nearly 50 years until his death in 1972.

Presidential aides have been firm in repeated declarations that, regardless of what Congress does, Nixon can go ahead with his plans to revamp the federal bureaucracy and act unilaterally to cut off funds for programs he considers failures.

The Gray controversy, however, indicates Congress may have other ways to counter presidential powers besides mandating spending and overriding vetoes. And there are indications that Congress, at last, may be ready to use those options.

Testimony ties Boyle, death fund

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — The prosecution in a trial stemming from the Yablonski murders is seeking to show that the persons who carried out the killings went straight to deposed United Mine workers President W.A. "Tony" Boyle for the payoff money.

Evidence introduced by the government Wednesday at the trial of William J. Prater, 53, a former UMW organizer from LaFollette, Tenn., charged with murder in the case, included two letters sent to Boyle from Albert Pass.

Pass, once secretary-treasurer of the union's District 19 who is awaiting trail in the slayings, requested a total of $20,000 to defray the costs of supposed union organizing efforts.

However, the government contends the money went to pay the three hired gunmen in the 1969 killings of Boyle's union archrival, Joseph A. Yablonski and Yablonski's wife and daughter.

The prosecution further alleges that the $20,000 was funneled into a so-called "Research and Information Fund," then dispursed in small checks to pensioned UMW members who cashed them and kicked the money back to Pass and Prater.

Edith Roark of Middlesboro, the District 19 bookkeeper since 1948, and Howard H. Channel, the UMW comptroller, each testified Wednesday that they had never before seen a request for funds sent directly to Boyle.

Such letters customarily had been sent to John Owens, then secretary-treasurer of the union.

The Yablonskis were shot to death as they slept in their home in the southwestern Pennsylvania town of Clarksville on Dec. 31, 1969, less than three weeks after the UMW insurgent had lost a bitter election battle for the union's presidency to Boyle, then the incumbent.

Boyle, who has steadfastly denied any link with the killings, is scheduled to appear as a defense witness at the request of Prater's attorney, David Rothman.

The photo depicted her partially undraped above the waist, she said. She also stated in the suit filed Wednesday that she had exclusive right to the photograph under a written agreement.

SEEKS MONEY

O. J. Ray, Mount Sterling, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court to recover $2,821.44 he says is owed him by Lowell and Beverly Hines, DeGraff.

The petition states the defendants executed and delivered a promissory note for the amount sought Sept. 26, 1972. Ray charges they still owe him the money.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Betty M. Berwanger, 799 McLean St., has been granted a divorce from Cornelius R. Berwanger, 799 McLean St., on grounds of neglect.

The parties were married March 10, 1962, in Columbus and had two children, custody of whom was awarded to the plaintiff. The defendant will be allowed to visit the children.

SUITS DISMISSED

A suit filed by Maynard Hoppes, Rt. 1, against Morton Buildings, Inc., Morton, Ill., has been dismissed from Common Pleas Court. The parties reached a mutual settlement.

Hoppes had contracted with the defendants for the construction of an implement building, according to the petition. He charged that the defendants made the building too small despite their knowledge of the structure's intended use.

Morton Buildings agreed to modify the building at its own expense.

A suit filed by Midwestern Indemnity Co., Cincinnati, and James D. Hacker, Middletown, seeking a total of $16,000 damages, has been dismissed. The defendants were Brothers Trucking Co., Dayton, William T. Spradlin, Dayton and James W. Carter, Vandalia.

The plaintiffs had sought damages it said were brought about by the negligence of defendant Carter, in connection with a traffic accident.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Continued mild weather accompanied by unseasonably higher temperatures were on the Ohio weather picture today.

Mostly cloudy skies prevailed through the night across the state with rain and occasional thundershowers which produced locally heavy rainfall earlier. The rains prompted flash flood watches to be posted over portions of the state.

The most serious threat of flooding ended by midnight as the thundershowers continued eastward into Pennsylvania and New York.

Rainfall amounts ranged from less than one quarter inch in the south to nearly an inch and a half at some northern locations. The heavier amounts officially reported were 1.46 inches at Akron-Canton and 1.44 inches at Youngstown.

The frontal system that produced the shower activity now lies east of Ohio. Southeast Ohio may still be close enough to the frontal zone to get a few showers and possibly thundershowers during the morning hours. Skies are expected to become sunny in the northwest but remain partly cloudy over the southeast half of the state.

Mild temperatures were again the rule during the night. By 6 a.m. temperatures ranged from the mid 50s to the mid 60s. The mercury will climb to near the 70 degree mark in the north and highs in the lower and middle 70s can be expected in the south this afternoon.

A chance of showers Saturday through Monday. Lows Saturday and Sunday in the 30s. And from the upper 30s to mid 40s Monday. Highs from the upper 40s to mid 50s Saturday and from the mid 50s to mid 60s Sunday and Monday.

School lunch vote nears

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House was expected to receive and give final legislative approval today to a school lunch bill that would require the Agriculture Department to pay cash to schools that did not receive promised donations of foodstuffs this school term.

The bill was approved by voice vote of the Senate Wednesday, and then sent to a House-Senate conference where technical difficulties with a House version were worked out. The conference agreement was approved by the Senate.

The bill was designed to supplement a school lunch program approved by Congress last year.

Stock prices drift lower

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices drifted lower today amid investor concern over the international monetary situation and inflationary pressures at home.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 2.56 at 976.29, while declines led advances on the New York Stock Exchange by 5 to 4.

On the Big Board, Texas Gulf was volume leader, down 1¼ to 22¾.

Metals companies were off after news that President Nixon planned to sell metals from government stockpiles to help drive down prices. Reynolds Metals was off ⅜ to 12½, Kennecott was off ⅝ to 27½, Anaconda fell 1 to 22½, and Phelps Dodge was down ⅞ to 44⅝.

'Blondie' creator dies

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Murat B. "Chic" Young, creator of the comic strip "Blondie," died Wednesday at Apollo Medical Center in nearby St. Petersburg. He was 72 and had been in failing health for some time.

For nearly 40 years "Blondie" has appeared in more than 1,500 newspapers throughout the world and is syndicated in 16 languages with an estimated 75 million readers daily.

Young once attributed success of his strip to two fundamentals — sleep and food. These were "things everybody does," he said.

Young, a Chicago native, moved to Clearwater 17 years ago from Los Angeles.

"Blondie" has been syndicated by King Features. Fate of the comic strip was not immediately known.

Confirmation vote delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A confirmation vote on the nomination of Mrs. Ruth Farkas to be ambassador to Luxembourg has been postponed by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which is looking into the timing of her appointment and her contribution to the Nixon re-election campaign.

The action to postpone the vote was recommended Wednesday by Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo. He said he did not doubt the sincerity of Mrs. Farkas when she followed through with a promised $300,000 donation to the Nixon campaign.

WCH man faces assault charge

A 21-year-old Washington C.H. man is presently lodged in the city jail on an assault charge following an alleged gun pointing incident at a Campbell Street home Wednesday night.

Police said John A. Brown, 21, of 704 Campbell St. was arrested on a complaint filed by Kenneth D. Holloway, 622 N. North St.

Holloway told police that he and a woman were sitting on a couch at 704 Campbell St., when Brown entered the home and ordered him to leave. Brown then allegedly pulled a pistol and kicked Holloway in the chin as he rose from the couch. He held the pistol on Holloway until he drove away in his car, officers said.

Brown is being held under $100 bond. He was scheduled to appear in Municipal Court Thursday afternoon.

Earl Leasure of 607 Willard St., reported that vandals had broken the antenna from his car and also knocked out the vent window sometime early Thursday. The car was parked in front of his home at the time. Damage was set at $35.

Nick Graham of 216½ W Temple St., told police that someone forced open the door to his home early Thursday and ran through the house, then drove away in a car. Graham said nothing was missing from the home.

Nixon challenges senate probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today he would not allow his legal counsel, John W. Dean III, to testify on Capitol Hill in the Watergate investigation and challenged the Senate to test him in the Supreme Court.

"If the Senate feels they want a court test, we would welcome it," the President told newsmen at the White House. At the same time he said former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and Republican fund raiser Maurice Stans are not shielded by executive privilege and would testify and "give good accounts" if summoned.

The Senate Judiciary Committee is holding hearings on whether to approve the nomination of L. Patrick Gray III to be director of the FBI. The hearing has touched often on the investigation of the June 17, 1972 break-in and bugging of the Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate building.

County airport radio beacon to be ready in 30 days

The site for the radio beacon for the Fayette County Airport has been staked out and is now ready for setting the poles, it was reported this week at the Pilots Association meeting at the airport. A beacon frequency was assigned sometime ago and a letter was received last week from the Federal Aviation Agency setting aside air space for the beacon.

The beacon committee, composed of President Tom Preston, Charles Dodds and Maurice Hopkins reported they expect the beacon to be in operation within 30 days.

Plans for the Pilots Association stag party later this month in the Country Club were discussed and Jim Vess, Bill Dennis and Norman Merritt were named to the committee on arrangements.

At the time of this meeting, the association had 31 paid up members.

After the business session, Bill Straus of the Cincinnati General Aviation District office presented a program on safety and prevention of accidents. He said that during the past year, 1,322 fatalities in general aviation were recorded and that during the same time 820 people were killed in bicycle accidents and 2,330 were killed in motorcycle mishaps.

Straus also discussed the new aviation regulations, which are to become effective in the near future.

Forest Shade Grange has inspection

The annual inspection of Forest Shade Grange was held Tuesday night at the Grange Hall in New Martinsburg. Grange master Winthrop Morgan conducted the inspection, on which the grange scored 839 of a possible 1,000 points.

The Grange's second degree was also presented for inspection by worthy master Mrs. Robert Ritter and its other officers.

Welcomed into the Grange as new members were the Rev. and Mrs. Cloyce Copley, formerly members of the Liberty Grange, Union County.

The charter was draped in honor of John Alley, a golden sheaf member of the Grange.

Mrs. Florence Bethard presented a literary program with "America" as its theme.

In other business, a contribution to the Grange's national youth fund was made, and members were reminded of a sewing and baking contest scheduled for the next meeting, April 10.

It was also announced that the men of Forest Shade Grange will clean litter from along township roads March 31.

Stiff term for convicted drug pusher

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A jail sentence without parole for 42 years is what faces Carlos Aleman Jr. of Chicago, Ill., following a drug conviction Wednesday.

Aleman, the key figure in what police call the largest heroin buy ever made here, was given a 50-to-100 year sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary by Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Judge John Patton.

A jury had found Aleman, 36, guilty of conspiracy to violate Ohio's narcotics laws, possession for sale, and sale of 18.4 ounces of heroin valued at $264,600.

Patton said the sentence was "not severe enough" because "pushers like Aleman" cause young people to commit other crimes to support a habit.

"They (pushers) can care less about young people who take an overdose and kill themselves," said Patton. The judge said he had sent four men to the Ohio Reformatory earlier this week for crimes they committed to support a habit.

Police testified during the trial that they had seen Aleman's agent, Arnasta Cortez, 45, of Chicago, deliver the heroin to an undercover agent in the lobby of a downtown motel Oct. 1, 1971. Cortez is awaiting trial.

Patton turned down a defense request that Aleman be freed on bond pending an appeal.

Longer race agreed upon by Delta Queen and Belle

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Grudgingly, the captain of the riverboat Delta Queen has agreed to the 10th annual race with the Belle of Louisville, but only after the race was lengthened.

Capt. Ernest Wagner said last year, after losing the fourth time in a row at Louisville, that there might not be a race this year.

"Aw," said Wagner following the new agreement, "I was kind of disgusted, after losing four in a row."

The race, to be held May 2, was lengthened from seven to 10 miles in an agreement Wednesday in the Green Lines office with the Belle's Capt. Charles Brasher.

Green Lines owns the Delta Queen, the only remaining overnight passenger carrying river boat plying the Ohio, Missouri and Mississippi rivers.

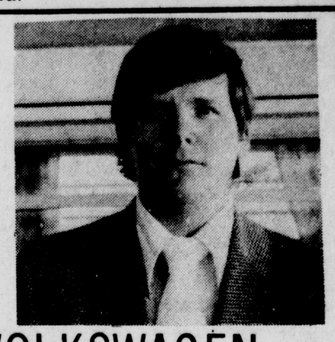

Wagner's complaint was that the Belle had an advantage in shorter races because of her maneuverability. The Belle of Louisville weighs 350 tons while the Delta Queen weighs 580.

The larger sternwheeler needs a longer distance to gain speed and had more difficulty with turnabouts, he said.

QA40 4-Channel Decoder/Stereo Amplifier

Four channel sound is Discrete when all four channels of information are separately recorded and maintained through playback; Matrix when four channels of information are encoded to two, for recording or broadcasting, then decoded to four at the listening end; or, Synthesized when two channels of stereo are restructured by electronic circuitry to simulate four channel sound.

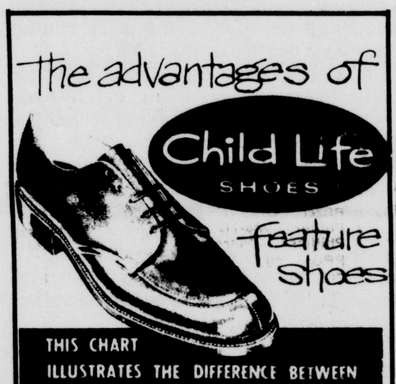

By adding this General Electric Four Channel Decoder/Stereo Amplifier and two speakers to a basic stereo system, you can listen to SQ discs, other matrix discs, encoded FM broadcasts, discrete four channel tapes and synthesized four channel sound.

When encoded information reaches the decoder in the QA40, the information is decoded into a 4-channel format. Each of the four separate signals is then amplified (two with the existing amplifier and two with the QA40). Each signal is then sent to its respective speaker.

Exclusive Early Vance Spurr Red Delicious APPLE TREES

The Sensational DOUBLE DWARF That Gives You More Apples Per Tree!

NOW! Enjoy Full Size Apples on Dwarf Trees

YOU'LL WANT TO be the first to grow the brand new apple! It offers many, many advantages, whether you are growing a few apples for home use or commercially for the market. It is a superior red Delicious in shape. It's a luscious red without any stripes!

IT WILL GROW and produce well in every apple growing area in the United States.

THE EARLY VANCE SPURR was developed and pattented by Dr. Joseph Norton at Auburn Nursery, in Auburn, Alabama. Mich-O-Tenny nurseries are exclusive nationwide distributors for this Early Vance Spurr Red Delicious.

HERE'S WHY this apple is different. The fruit grows on many spurs set closely along each limb. YOU'LL HAVE APPLES ALL THE WAY OUT EACH LIMB; not just on the end of the branches. So more apples per tree! This habit of growth and fruiting naturally dwarfs the tree.

THE EARLY VANCE SPURR IS A SPORT (a natural occuring mutation) of the regular Vance Red Delicious. Tests have proven that the Early Vance Spurr performs tremendously when budded to Malling-Merton 106 understock. That's the way the double dwarf tree is produced. These apples will ripen 10 days to 2 weeks before the regular Vance Red Delicious.

THIS DOUBLE DWARF Spurr type red delicious will begin producing heavily 2 or 3 years after you set the trees. This gives you a quick return on your investment. Isn't this what you really want in an apple tree?

Probe of pesticide control

The bold front put up by California authorities when contamination of lettuce by a pesticide called Monitor 4 first came to light has crumbled under later developments. The federal Environmental Protection Agency's ban on use of this pesticide on lettuce is the latest and most conclusive evidence that state officials had sought to unduly minimize the seriousness of the situation.

Their concern lest California lettuce be given a bad name across the nation is doubtless natural. This attitude should long since have given way, however, to the far more important concern that lettuce containing excessive residues of this pesticide be held off the market or called back.

The EPA's action demonstrates that this federal agency is not satisfied with what has been done thus far. On the basis of tests the EPA concludes that "it would be impossible to guarantee that tolerances would be met" were continued use of the pesticide on lettuce permitted. The agency also imposed tougher regulations as to broccoli, requiring that henceforth growers must wait 21 rather than 14 days before harvesting this vegetable after Monitor 4 application.

The situation seems to be in hand now as these orders take effect. The basic problem remains. As the episode earlier this year in California shows, the present system of assuring that pesticide-contaminated vegetables are not sold to consumers is inadequate.

That conclusion must be drawn from the fact that, according to the Food and Drug Administration, excessive Monitor 4 residues - six times the federal government's tolerance level, in one instance - were found on 10,000 cases of lettuce distributed nationwide.

Cesar Chavez, head of the United Farm Workers, first brought the affair to national attention and now is calling for an investigation which would cover not merely the use of Monitor 4 but the efficacy of state and federal regulatory programs. Sen. Alan Cranston of California has joined Chavez in this. Such an investigation ought to be conducted with regard to regulatory practices not only in California but throughout the country.

A WORD EDGEWISE. . .by John P. Roche

When you say 'patronizing snob'

Despite rumors to the contrary spread by, among others, the President of the United States, power has not been concentrated in the Federal bureaucracy by a sinister liberal cabal. On the contrary, Washington moved in as it became increasingly apparent that state and local governments were simply incompetent to cope with the major problems of a modern industrial society. The impetus for concentration, if anything, came from the bottom, from the people and their elected representatives who wanted such socialist frivolities as Social Security, unemployment compensation, trade unions, civil rights, and a decent education.

MR. NIXON, in a recent chapter in his serialized State of the Union Address, accused those who look to the Federal Government for leadership of a patronizing attitude toward state and local governments. We are apparently just a bunch of elitist snobs who fail to appreciate the virtue incarnate in the city councils, state legislatures, town meetings, and other units of non-Federal jurisdiction.

He is absolutely right on one account: we profoundly distrust state and local governments, but not because we are patronizing snobs. On the contrary, we are political realists and, I submit, the majority of the American people shares our skepticism. It is good dirty fun for Mr. Nixon to riducule Federal bureaucrats peering over their pencils (and I might add that winning the election conferred on the President the right to give liberals the leather; politics is a body-contact sport), but on the practical level is he prepared to argue that state and local bureaucracies are more honest, more dedicated, more talented at peering over pencils than their Federal counterpart? He knows as well as I do that in most states civil service is a joke.

To say this is not to deny that the Federal bureaucracy has its failings. It is cumbersome, oversized, and often underworked. (There is what I call the Aid to Dependent Colonels welfare program at the Pentagon which could provide some fat for Secretary Richardson's budgetary surgeons.) But by and large Federal bureaucrats do not STEAL. A cynical friend once suggested that this virtue is founded on lack of imagination, but there it is. In contrast, has anyone been keeping track of grand jury activities in New Jersey?

Similarly, if political virtue resides at the bottom of the pyramid, why does every talented politician make tracks for Washington? To this Mr. Nixon can reply that the habits of a lifetime can be changed, but to take one example — nobody should hold his breath waiting for Elliott Richardson to come home and run for Mayor of Boston.

FINALLY, just take the average American's sense of governmental priorities. Do a poll: ask him (or her) to name 1) his city councilman; 2) his state representative;)3 his state senator; 4) his U. S. Congressman; and 5) his U. S. Senators. I won't waste space predicting the results, except to note that in terms of "participatory democracy" far more Americans cast their votes in national elections than in state and local when the latter are held in off years. And when national and state officials are on the same ballot, there is generally a remarkable fall-off from the top of the ticket — President, Senator, Representative — to the state and local contests below.

In short, the most representative government in the United States is the national government. This is not liberal whimsy, but based on hard electoral data. Beyond that and this is speculation with a liberal bias — I submit the national government is probably the most honest and efficient government in the nation. If this is patronizing elitism, make the most of it.

"AND THIS IS MY DESIGNATED AGENT."

Hal Boyle . . . Making life worth living

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

Celebrating your fifth birthday with your best girl in an old-fashioned penny candy store with 25 cents in your pocket and the whole afternoon free to spend it.

Having your biggest rival in kindergarten come down with the mumps.

Sunlight bediamonding a wave-rippled lake.

Peeling the dry skin off a healed sunburn.

The taste of onions in anything.

Proving to your beaming mother you now know the alphabet well enough to look up any word in the dictionary she can think of. "Go ahead, try me on any word, Mom. Do you want me to start with dog or cat?"

Pitching pennies to a wall in the schoolyard, because nothing made the principal madder.

Soaping the windows of the neighborhood grouch on Halloween.

One-putting the 18th hole to break 100 on a golf course for the first time.

The feel of soap and hot water after two weeks up front with combat troops.

Digging a cave in the back yard and wondering how long it would take if you dug clear through to China.

Feeling a girl blow her breath in your ear at a high school dance. Am I making this up? Could this be happening to me?

Pushing your baby sister in a carriage and getting pretty prideful when all the girls in the block run up and say she looks just like you.

The affection in a father's hands when he tosses you up and catches you after pretending he's going to let you fall.

Listening to a minister tell you and your bride-to-be what each can expect from the other in a happy marriage.

Awakening safe in your own bed the morning after you return from a foreign war, cheered by the bird sounds and familiar street screeches of peace and home.

Noticing at 16 that the cuffs of the pants you bought last year are much higher above your ankles this year. You may not wind up the runt of the litter after all.

Scrambling exultantly back downhill after climbing the tallest peak in Colorado.

The lasting scent of the first gardenia corsage you ever gave to a girl who deserved to wear it.

Spending endless hours selecting a name for the first baby, and flipping a coin to see what to call all the others.

Unexpectedly at 60 finding the Deity in many more places than you recognized Him at 17.

Of such small moments and portents are our long lives made.

In 1767, the seventh U.S. president, Andrew Jackson, was born.

Ten years ago: The United States proposed a "hot line" communications system between Washington and Moscow.

Five years ago: There was a stampede to buy gold in Europe, and the London gold market and British stock exchanges were closed.

One year ago: U.S. Senate defeated a bill that would have enabled voters to register by postcard.

Today's birthdays: Singer Eddy Arnold is 55. Actor George Brent is 69.

Thought for today: What's in a name? That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet — William Shakespeare, 1564-1616.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Old flame burns black and blue

DEAR ABBY: Ten years ago, when I was a single man, I was doing some work in the home of a very attractive woman. (Painting and decorating.) She was very friendly and always went around in a thin robe and nothing underneath. Over coffee one morning she told me how unhappy she was (sexually) with her husband. It turned out we had an affair which lasted about two months in the afternoons when her husband was working and her kids were in school. It was no big love affair, it was just fun for both of us and I never saw her again.

I made the big mistake of bragging about it to a few of her neighbors, and one of them must have told her husband after all these years because he tracked me down and called up my wife and told her everything. Now my wife is giving me a hard time, even though we weren't married (but were going together) when all this took place.

Maybe it's a coincidence, but last week two strange men jumped me and gave me a terrible beating.

Abby, I can't understand why this man would want to make my life so miserable for something that happened ten years ago. Can you?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Either he just found out about it or just found YOU. There are some valuable lessons to be learned here. Men who work around women should keep their minds on their work. And those who don't should keep their mouths shut.

DEAR ABBY: When I give a dinner party I do as much as possible in advance because I have no help and I like to spend the cocktail hour with my guests.

What gets me is the well-meaning guest who surprises me with something for my dinner to "help out." It is invariably something which requires a lot of fooling with, like a mold for which I have to hunt up a suitable serving platter, and then unmold it, or a loaf of unsliced French bread from which I am supposed to make garlic bread.

I hate to sound like an ingrate, but please, Abby, tell these people who are thoughtlessly thoughtful that if they want to bring something to please bring it ready to serve.

BOLLOXED IN BOTHELL

DEAR BOLLOXED: Will do. And that includes sweet corn, husks and all, freshly picked from "our" garden. Or worse yet, home grown spinach.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 16

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Mars influences somewhat adverse. Avoid risks and impulsiveness. Make no hasty decisions and curb spending.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

A good day for achievement. You should not only gain through regular activities, but may even have an opportunity to cash in on an avocational skill.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Mercury influences fine! Now's the time to launch new ventures, set forth your ingenious ideas and make decisions involving future activities.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Don't make changes in present undertakings — especially if others are involved — without careful thought and consideration for associates.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Some challenges indicated now, but you have the intellect and talent to best them. This day's efforts will be important to the future.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Your creative ideas may need some revision before they can be carried out, so be sure to study all angles of feasibility before presenting them.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

There are tendencies now to take off on tangents and to ease up in effort just when more persistence is needed. Don't fail yourself by yielding to such inclinations.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Your intuition and fine judgment in familiar activities will be a boon in tight spots now. You COULD try something new if so inclinded, but don't go beyond your depth.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A good day for starting or developing new business associations. An unusual idea could spark a brand new approach in career matters, as well.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

You may face keen competition now, but your abilities will be stimulated if you believe in yourself and make the best of your many fine talents. Direct activities thoughfully.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A gigantic step may not be necessary; several smaller ones may bring you to your goals with surer footing, help you to launch the unusual with enduring success.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

You will have access to some extraordinary gains now if you move with forethought and know-how. Neptune, propitious, stimulates your intuition and quick thinking.

YOU BORN TODAY have a multitude of talents with which to build a rich, rewarding life. Intellectually inclined, you would make an outstanding writer, educator or scientist. Politics may appeal to you and, if so, you could become a leader of prominence in the fields of statesmanship or diplomacy. You are a true humanitarian, filled with compassion for the helpless and the underprivileged; would shine as a leader in any institution devoted to the care of the young, the aged or the sick. In your personal life, this sympathy for the afflicted could let you be "taken in," if not careful. Try to discriminate between real need and exploitation of your charitable impulses.

Chrysler hits emission regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chrysler Corp., in a significant departure from General Motors and Ford, has questioned the ability of Detroit to control harmful auto exhausts through the use of chemically activated antipollution devices.

S. L. Terry, environmental and safety-relations vice president for the nation's third-largest automaker, told the Environmental Protection Agency Tuesday that the devices, called catalytic converters, "are not ready to be put on cars."

All three firms said last year that the best means of meeting proposed emission standards for 1975 model year cars were the converters, which use chemicals to break down exhaust gases into harmless components.

Terry commented during the latest round of EPA hearings ordered by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington.

Terry said Chrysler's experimental converters had broken down in tests and would not be able to perform adequately in normal car use.

Solon lamed by exercises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Griffin's efforts to keep fit and trim has him limping.

The Michigan Republican hobbled into the Senate chamber Tuesday with the explanation that he suffered a muscle cramp while doing his daily exercises.

See gasoline shortage

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania faces a serious gasoline shortage this summer that could force fuel companies to limit deliveries to dealers, according to Commerce Secretary Walter Arader.

"No one is planning rationing," Arader said Tuesday. "At this point, no one has determined what the course of action will be. But I'm guessing the oil companies will probably allocate supplies to their customers on the basis of last year's use.

"Then it would be up to the individual dealers to allocate their supply."

Arader appeared before the House Business and Commerce Committee to support a bill creating a Pennsylvania Energy Council. The commerce secretary would chair the 11-member council.

Arader later told a reporter he would "deplore" gas rationing although such a step may be required.

Welcome Wagon Club style show April 4

'FAMILY FASHIONS AND FUN NIGHT' — This is the caption being placed on posters made by (left to right) Mrs. Kay Hall, Mrs. Margie Engle and Mrs. Linda Shaver, members of the Welcome Wagon Club, to publicize the annual style show and card party April 4. The public is invited to attend.

Welcome Wagon Club recently met to plan for the annual style show and card party for 7:30 p.m. April 4 in the Dayton Power and Light auditorium. The models will be members of the club, their husbands and children. The theme for the year will be "Family Fashions and Fun Night." New spring and summer fashions from the New Craigs' and some of their own fashions will be worn. Also wigs from Tops Wig Fashions and jewelry from Boylan Jewelers will be teatured. Tickets are $1. and may be obtained from an Welcome Wagon Club member at the door that evening.

The Welcome Wagon Club, organized in 1942, is unique in that members are offered an opportunity to participate in community and city activities. They contribute their time and efforts for worthwhile charitable and humanitarian projects and yet make a host of new friends.

Projects for the past year have included baby-sitting for the Red Cross Bloodmobile and delivering food baskets to three deserving families at Thanksgiving.

The club consists of several activity groups which include bowling, gourmet, needlecraft, crafts, couples club, and a men's card club. In order to join an activity group, a person must be a member of the WW Club which meets once a month. Membership of the club varies as new citizens move into Washington C.H. Ages of members range from young brides to that of grandmothers. A newsletter is sent to members each month, reporting activities for the coming month and brief history of new members. Mrs. Gary Casey, 1601 Sunset Dr., is the present club hostess and visits each new resident of Washington C.H.

The style show and card party proceeds will go into the club treasury to be used as needed throughout the year for various charitable projects.

Y-Gradale card party is March 28

Plans were completed for the annual Y-Gradale Sorority card party to be held from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. March 28 at the DP&L auditorium, when members met in the home of Mrs. Ed Fisher. Mrs. Paul Pope announced that homemade candies and soft drinks will be available and tickets may be purchased for $1 from any member or Mrs. Pope, or at the door. The public is invited to attend.

Proceeds from the card party will be used to clothe a senior girl at the Children's Home, and to purchase birthday gifts for other children there.

Mrs. William Stoughton presented devotions from the Y-Gradale Year book, and all repeated the Sorority Invocation. Mrs. Jim Kirk, president, welcomed guests Mrs. Lutie Kuhn and Miss Linda Gifford, and announced that membership forms were available.

The nominating committee will have a slate of officers to present at the April meeting, and Mrs. Kirk announced the annual mother-daughter banquet is planned for May 14. Another meeting and "Rush Tea" is planned for May 21, when the new officers will be installed.

The remainder of the evening was spent visiting and playing cards. Mrs. Richard Anthony, Mrs. Carl Wilt and Mrs. Will Braun served refreshments to Mrs. Kuhn, Miss Gifford, Mrs. Ned Abbott, Mrs. Jo Ann Douglass, Mrs. Robert English, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Jack Hatmacher, Mrs. Don Kirk, Mrs. James Kirk, Mrs. Allen Mossbarger, Mrs. John Noble, Mrs. Loren Noble, Mrs. Jack Plymire, Mrs. Paul Pope, Mrs. Roger Rapp, Mrs. William Stoughton, Mrs. Charles Wright.

The next meeting will be held April 9 at the home of Mrs. English.

Association donates to Meals on Wheels

Mrs. Rollo Marchant, president of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church, conducted the meeting in Persinger Hall Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Marchant led the group in responsive readings and songs of a "Dedication of Service to Others" for the Lenten season. On display was a cube, the symbol of the parts of Christianity — prayer, worship, Bible study, evangelism, social action and missions. She then opened the dube to the flat surface which formed a cross.

The Bible lesson from the Old Testament was read by Mrs. Kenneth Bush, and Miss Ruth Stecher read from the New Testament.

Mrs. Starley Knedler, representing Meals on Wheels, reported on the progress of this new community project which is providing warm balanced meals each noon, Monday through Friday, for the elderly, convalescent and handicapped persons of the Washington C. H. area. Especially needed is help in securing adequate, reasonable housing for low-income and retirement-income people.

Contributions and volunteer help in delivering meals will help in getting this very worthwhile program going, the group was told. A contribution of $50 was made by the association to the program.

The group voted to give a donation to the "Meals on Wheels" program.

Mrs. Loren Noble will be the April hostess when Mrs. Edgar McFadden will present the program. Mrs. Don Thornton, Mrs. Dale Thornton and Mrs. Robert Parrett assisted in the hospitalities.

Drawing by Van Gogh is found in attic

LONDON (AP) — A drawing by Vincent Van Gogh has been found in the attic of a house in the Devonshire village of Stoke Gabriel.

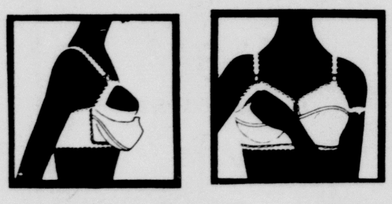

The drawing is of a house in Brixton, London, where the Dutch artist stayed in 1872 when he was about 20. There he fell in love with Eugenie Loyer, his landlady's daughter, but she spurned him as she was already engaged.

Her granddaughter, Mrs. Katherine Eugenie Maynard, took the drawing with her when the family moved to Devonshire. She was going to throw it away, but "then I noticed the work that had gone into it and decided to put it aside in the attic," she said.

Mrs. Maynard has no intention of selling the picture right now. "I have presented it on loan to the new Van Gogh museum which is opening in Amsterdam in June," she said.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	2 ♣	2 ♥	3 ♣
Pass	Pass	3 ♥

Opening lead - king of clubs.

This deal occurred in a match between Great Britain and France during the European championship. South was the British star, Harold Franklin.

West cashed the A-K of clubs and shifted to a low diamond. East won with the ace and returned a diamond to declarer's king.

Franklin then led a low spade to the queen, East taking the king and playing a third diamond. South won and didn't bother to take the heart finesse. He led the ace, caught the king, and so made three scintillating hearts.

Franklin reasoned that East would have bid two notrump, not three clubs, had he held the king of hearts as well as the ace of diamonds and king of spades.

Since it followed from this that West had the king, no good could come from a heart finesse — and the only hope therefore was that West's king was unguarded.

As the result indicated, Franklin couldn't have been more right. East, however, pinned the blame on his partner for allowing South to make the hand.

When the spade was led by declarer, West had played the six. East contended that, had West played the nine — starting a high-low to show a doubleton — he would have permitted the queen to win the trick.

Declarer would then no doubt have assumed that West had the king, and might thus have concluded that East had the king of hearts. In that case South would presumably have taken a heart finesse, lost to the king, and later lost a spade trick to go down one.

All of which may be somehwat metaphysical — though we do think East's argument was sound. The hand simply goes to show that when an important championship is at stake, the players just can't sit there whistling Dixie.

Gilligan announces crime control grants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan announced Wednesday a $250,000 federal Omnibus Crime Control Act grant has been awarded to Portage County for construction of a Juvenile Rehabilitation and Detention Center.

Mansfield received a $28,753 grant to provide in-service training for local law enforcement officers.

FCC changes proposed by officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broadcast renewal policies of the Federal Communications Commission would be revised substantially under legislation proposed by the Nixon administration.

The White House proposal, announced Tuesday, would prohibit the FCC from setting categories, quotas, formats or guidelines for programming.

Licenses would be renewed for five years, instead of the present three years, and the present FCC requirement for an automatic hearing when a competing application is filed would be eliminated.

Under the proposal, said Clay T. Whitehead, director of President Nixon's Office of Telecommunications Policy, the FCC would be precluded "from restructuring the broadcast industry through the renewal process."

The OTP drafted the legislation.

CIA agent 'told all' to Chinese

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP) — John T. Downey says the information he gave his Chinese captors 20 years ago is "ancient history" and he doesn't want to discuss it in detail.

A reporter asked him during a news conference Tuesday if he had revealed any secrets under questioning.

"I would say I revealed about every bit of information I had," the 42-year-old Central Intelligence Agency employe replied. He said he gave the information during the first nine months of his imprisonment.

Downey, who returned to the United States on Monday, was captured with Richard Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., in November 1952 after their plane was shot down over Manchuria. Both were imprisoned on espionage charges. Fecteau was released in December 1971.

Downey declined comment Tuesday on what kind of a flight he and Fecteau were on when they were captured.

The water of Lake Superior is clear and extremely cold, not far above the freezing point even in summer.

Auditor seeks cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The office of State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson will need $1.2 million more than allocated in the administration's proposed 1973-1975 budget, his administrative assistant said Wednesday night.

William L. Williams, testifying before the general section of the House Finance Committee, said the hike is necessary if the office is to keep pace with its increasing responsibilities. Needs in the next two years will include the hiring of an additional 128 employes, he said.

Williams noted that the auditor's proposed budget would cost $5.4 million the first year of the biennium and $5.8 million in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1975.

"We feel this is a modest budget in terms of meeting the responsibilities of our continuing programs, plus the institution of needed programs ...," Williams told the committee.

He said the auditor's office the past two years has had to operate on a "less than continuing budget" because the last legislature cut its requests by $1.1 million.

POW faces questions

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — After five years in Viet Cong captivity, Army Spec. 4 Michael P. Branch may be greeted at his home in Highland Heights, Ky., with birthday cake.

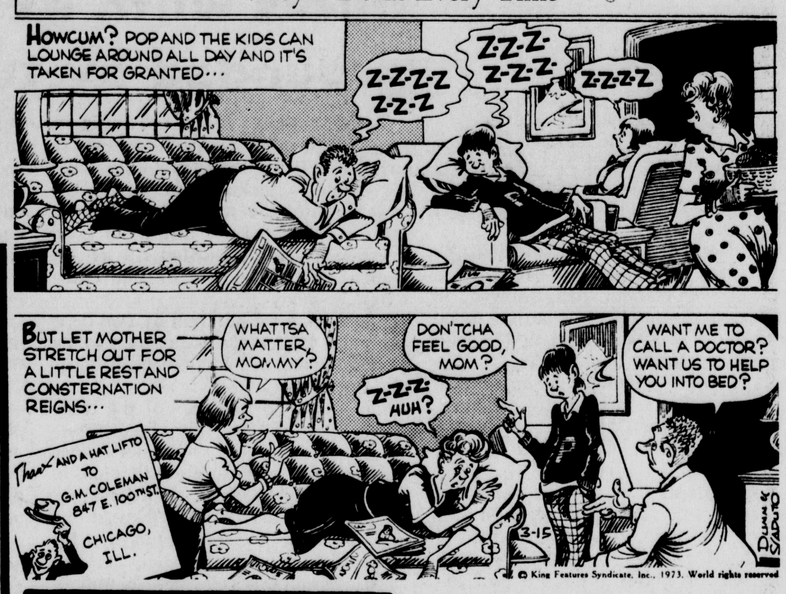

Branch's 26th birthday is April and his mother says his six brothers and sisters are expecting him home by then. He is to be released Friday.

"We're so thrilled," said Mrs. Charlotte Branch, his mother.

Branch was formerly listed AWOL when he disappeared in May 1968 while driving a supply truck near Da Nang. The Army later changed his status to missing in action.

Army officials have stated they plan to question Branch upon arrival regarding alleged anti-war statements over Radio Hanoi.

Speaking of Your Health...

Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Cortisone Is Safe If—

I have been using cortisone for a skin condition for a few months. My mother worries because she says that cortisone is dangerous. Can it be harmful?

Miss L. Y., R. I.

Dear Miss Y.:

Many of my readers express concern about cortisone, which somehow produces a sense of fear in many for whom this is prescribed. Cortisone and the corticosteroids are remarkable substances which have opened avenues for the treatment of skin diseases and other disorders that previously were virtually untreatable.

I believe it is generally accepted that these products virtually revolutionized the science of dermatology.

Cortisone is never promiscuously prescribed. Neither is the length of time for which it is given casually determined. You can be certain that you doctor knows the range of safety of cortisone in your specific case.

Your mother's anxiety can only reflect on you and induce fears that you do not deserve. The psychological overtones so often associated with skin conditions may even interfere with the cure your doctor seeks.

I have polyps of the cervix. If these are removed by operation, can it interfere with the ability to become pregnant? I am anxious to have another child.

Mrs. O. G., Md.

Dear Mrs. G.:

The cervic is the neck of the uterus, or womb. It is a firm muscular part of the womb that lies in the vaginal canal.

Polyps are small grape-like tumors which are almost always noncancerous. These polyps may be caused by chronic infection or some form of irritation.

The removal of polyps is a safe and painless procedure. Sometimes they can be removed by electro-coagulation in a doctor's office.

The procedure itself should not interfere with pregnancy. The presence of polyps, however, and the causes that produce them may be the culprits that prevent conception.

Can neuritis be caused by a vitamin deficiency in a person who has a completely balanced diet? In fact, I am told that I eat far more than I should.

Mr. V. M., S.C.

Dear Mr. M.:

True neuritis is an inflammation or an infection of one or more nerves in the body. Beriberi, a severe illness, is caused by a deficiency of thiamine, or Vitamin B1. Rarely is this deficiency present in one whose diet is adequate. There are other causes of neuritis, such as chronic alcoholism and exposure to toxic substances such as arsenic, mercury, and lead. The basic cause must be found before the condition can be remedied.

Kings Island to employ 1,500 youth

KINGS MILLS — With summer jobs generally pretty scarce today, it is unusual when a company actively searches for summer employes.

However, that's what Kings Island is doing this month.

"Our biggest commodity is our summer employes," says Jack Pobst, the park's personnel director. He and his staff will be hiring 1,500 high school and college students.

Pobst said summer employes at Kings Island are assigned to a variety of positions. They sell tickets, prepare and sell food, sell merchandise, operate rides and assist guests as usherettes, parking lot hosts, information hostesses and security guards.

"It's an ideal situation for some high school students," Pobst said. "If a high school junior or senior gets a job at Kings Island, there's a good chance he or she will have a job here throughout the college years."

Although Kings Island is southwestern Ohio's largest employer of student help in the summer, Pobst has noticed that some students will hesitate or not even interview for a position, thinking that all of the jobs have been filled.

"On the contrary, we are interviewing and hiring young people now and will be hiring throughout the summer," he said. "Just because the park opens in late April does not mean that we will not have openings in June, July, August or the post-season weekends. We will."

Kings Island is accepting only personally submitted applications and interviews at the park's personnel offices from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. Pobst said the pay scale for beginning employes, who must be at least 17 years old, is $1.70 an hour plus a bonus when a student has worked the entire season. Housing is not provided by the park for their employes.

Located along I-71 north of Cincinnati, Kings Island attracted more than two million persons during its inaugural season last year. The park opens for preview weekends on April 28 and begins daily operation on May 26.

An army colonel sent to investigate a slaughter by Montanans of 170 peaceful Indians at a camp at Cypress Hills, Canada, reported there was no law in the region and in 1873 recommended forming a mounted police force to keep order.

Ohio perspective

Farmers face fertilizer shortage

By DEAN SCHOTT
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio grain farmers, who have been living from one crisis to another in recent months, face a fertilizer shortage this spring, said the general manager of a Columbus manufacturer.

Kenneth Probasco of Landmark, one of the largest manufacturers and distributors of fertilizer in Ohio, said he is "most concerned about the shortage of phosphate."

Probasco said Landmark uses phosphate to mix with nitrogen and potash to produce a fertilizer blend.

"There are two main reasons for the shortage," he said. "For the past one and one-half years, we have had domestic price controls and no controls on export prices.

"During this time, many phosphate companies have shipped their supplies overseas for a better price.

"Secondly, there is a very critical shortage of railcars, which are used to transport the phosphate from mines in Florida to Ohio."

The transportation situation, he said, "is doubly aggravated by the late grain harvests" which have tied up the railcars at a time when they are needed to transport the phosphate.

Probasco said, "You can't ship those two things in one railcar at once."

Corn farmers, he said, will need fertilizer in late April and early May just prior to planting. The critical time for soybean growers comes a short time later.

The demand for fertilizer will be great this spring, he said, because the federal government has allowed 40 million acres across the nation to be put back in production to help the food supply and lower food prices.

As a result, Probasco said, more fertilizer will be needed by farmers.

His advice for Ohio farmers is "be sure your supply is dependable and get it early before the rush."

How critical the shortage becomes, he said, "will depend on what kind of season we have. If we have about a month of perfect planting weather, then we are going to have a real demand and that's when farmers will feel the shortage the most."

Americans find limit to resources

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — For two centuries the prototype American, free of spirit, blessed with abundance, believed there was no end to his resources, to his potential, to the means for satisfying his needs and dreams.

Now he is faced with the possibility of having to do without — without lean red meat every day of the week, without the freedom to drive his car wherever he pleases because there isn't enough gasoline to go around.

He watched his country acknowledge its military and political limitations and he sees the dollar, symbol of American productivity, embattled throughout the world. He shudders at his nation's inability to solve domestic problems.

There are, he is finding, limitations.

Forrest N. Shumway, president and chief executive officer of The Signal Companies, a giant petroleum products company, described in an interview with John Barbour of the Associated Press how it was before we recognized limitations:

"The United States has been an energy waster since time immemorial. The philosophy of the people has been built on cheap energy. The utilities have spent their entire lives trying to sell more and more.

"I can remember when we built a building in downtown Los Angeles, we were told by the utility, 'Leave all the lights in the building on. It's spectacular. It'll be good advertising for you, and it costs just about as little to leave them on as it does to hire a guy to go around and shut them off.'

"And this was like 1960," said Shumway, a year in which many Americans first heard of "The New Frontier," the spirit of which was that problems existed merely to be overcome.

Now there is an energy crisis and the electric utilities are urging customers to save watts. Lumber producers are worried about shortages. The federal government says a money shortage forbids spending for worthy projects.

Most other countries never believed that material progress was inevitable, but many Americans still do. Embued with the frontier spirit, they feel that the material benefits are yours if you work for them.

Burkhard Strumpel of the Survey Research Center, University of Michigan, revealed recently the findings of a study of American workers and consumers:

"No less than 84 per cent of our sample of young heads of households (interviewed in Detroit and Baltimore in 1971) expect they will be better off a year from now."

Adds Strumpel: "And if five years from now their standards of living were the same, 58 per cent would be outright dissatisfied."

And there's the conflict. George Katona, dean of consumer behaviorists, reminds us that "not a few individuals, nor a thin upper class, but the majority of families now have discretionary purchasing power and constantly replace and enlarge their stock of consumer goods."

The American dream of material success has come true. More than 11 million cars will be sold this year, and more than 2.5 million homes if you include mobile units. Recreation is big business. Savings accounts are bulging.

"What is known all over the world as the American standard of living does not consist of luxurious living by the wealthy," Katona says in "The Mass Consumption Society."

"What is new is the common man's sharing in the ways of living that in the past were reserved for the few. The common man's ability to use some of his money for what he would like to have rather than for what he must have represents a revolutionary change."

Ducks wiith extra wings grounded by turbulence

LISBON, Ohio (AP) — The eight ducks whose extra wings cause reverse turbulence when they try to fly have birds experts flocking here for a look.

Meanwhile, the men who care for them worry about the advent of good weather—predators killed 19 of an original flock of 29. Not all had extra wings, however.

The eight were hatched by two hens who, with their mates, adopted nearby Beaver Creek State Park as their home last summer.

The extra wings—seven of the birds have four wings, the eighth has three—just at right angles to the bucks' bodies and appear to be off-angle extensions of their natural wings. Ornithologists from several states have visited the park but have had no explanation for the oddi5y.

Park Manager Fred Steputis and an assistant, Louis Cianni, gave the ducks a winter home on the ground floor of an old and roomy barn. The ducks, they say, must be confined for their own protection since they can't fly.

Steputis plans to build them an outdoor house "where we can keep an eye on them, and heaven help the dog, cat owl or people that molest them."

But they are cozy enough now. Cianni installed a brickwalled tub in the barn and set up a "shower" for them: a garden hose hung from rafters above the tub and turned on several times a day. The ducks greet its splashing with excited quacks and a flat-footed stampede.

A sympathic farmer donated 400 pounds of corn for upkeep of the six drakes and four hens, and Cianni provides frest straw daily.

On a world-wide average, fresh water is consumed at the rate of 500 tons a person a year.

Moderate damage listed in 3 traffic accidents

Two drivers were cited in three traffic mishaps reported in the Fayette County area Wednesday by police and sheriff's departments. Property damage was moderate.

Sheriff's deputies charged Edward V. Duffy, 65, of Chillicothe with failure to maintain an assured clear distance following a two-car crash on U. S. 35, near the I-71 interchange, at 3:20 p.m. Wednesday.

Investigating officers reported a car being driven southeast by Rebecca A. Mann, 27, of 717 Yeoman St., was stopped to make a left turn into a service station when the Duffy car skidded on the wet pavement and rammed the rear of the Mann vehicle.

Passengers in both car complained of injuries but were not treated at the time. Damage to both cars was extensive.

Kathleen M. Juillerat, 50, of 586 Trace Court, was charged by city police with failure to yield the right of way in a collision at the intersection of Lewis and Gregg streets Wednesday morning.

Police said the Juillerat car had pulled from Gregg Street onto Lewis Street into the path of a southbound car driven by Helen M. Kelley, 55 Rt. 1, Both cars were moderately damaged.

A car driven by Mary E. Arnold, 28, Lyndon, went out of control on Miami Trace Road, just east of Ohio 41, and hit a utility pole and fence.

Sheriff's deputies said the car slid off the right side of the wet pavement and into a ditch before it glanced off the pole into a fence on the Loren B. Johnson farm.

A passenger in the Arnold car complained of an injury but was not treated at the time. Damage was moderate in the 5:14 p.m. crash.

Industrial development legislation discussed

Nine representatives of the city, the Community Improvement Corp. and the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce attended the Ohio Chamber of Commerces legislative conference Wednesday in Columbus.

The local representatives met with Sen. Max Dennis, Rep. Joseph Hiestand and several members of the State Development Department.

Current legislation and trends in industrial development were the topics of discussion, according to James Dunn, executive vice president of the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce.

George Winkle, CIC president, and Jerry Sheppard, Chamber president, both termed the conference a success and said it was "time well spent."

Dunn said the local delegation "accomplished quite a bit for public relations" for the city.

Attending the conference from Washington C.H., in addition to Dunn, Winkle and Sheppard, were Dan Wolford, Ralph Cook, Hugh Patton, Bruce Galloway, Fred Domenico and William Pool.

Consumer survey plan studied

Possible questions for a consumers survey, to be conducted by the consumer education class at Washington Senior High School, were discussed by members of the Downtown Businessmen's Association at their meeting Wednesday.

Various promotions, parking problems and city beautification programs were also discussed, but no action was taken as only five members attended.

Leaking chemicals cause minor panic

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Two leaking barrels of a chemical used to odorize natural gas caused a minor panic in downtown Cincinnati Wednesday.

Firemen found the barrels in a junkyard west of the area and buried them.

Persons working in several downtown buildings evacuated when the smell of ethyl mercaptan permiated the area.

Lee Erwin to give organ concerts

The Washington Organ Club has announced that Lee Erwin, famous organist, will come to Washington C. H. for two special family fun shows. The dates have been approved by the Chamber of Commerce and the City School Board in addition to clearance on the Community Calendar with the Chamber of Commerce.

The first program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, March 22, in the Junior High School Auditorium. Erwin's program will be "A Trip Through the Organ," featuring an elementary chorus from Belle Aire, Sunnyside and Cherry Hill schools with the special music of the Miami Trace Folk Singers and one of the silent comedies by Buster Keaton; "The General."

The second program will be presented on Tuesday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. and will end in time for people who attend to get home in time to see the Academy Awards presentations. Erwin will present his "Moon River" program heard on WLW for over 11 years. The "Moon River" program will feature singing by the Miami Trace Folk Singers and performing some of the songs that helped Doris Day, Rosemary Clooney and other famous people who started their careers on the "Moon River" programs. Special stage settings are to be created by Scott Lanum and Michael Hughes for the occasion and the elementary singers will present Disney music.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the classic first horror film "The Phantom of the Opera" starring Lon Chaney Senior made in 1926 by the original University Studios.

Profits from both concerts will be used to renovate and modernize the Junior High School organ. The Organ Club after considering comments made by various speakers who have urged community involvement, and City Council's request to improve the community, decided to make these family programs possible at the lowest cost anywhere.

Erwin will do both concerts while he is on a tour that will present him on March 23rd at the Ohio Theater in Columbus and on March 24 and 25 in Indianapolis. He will be on leave from Lehman College, New York City, where he teaches electronic and organ music. For 25 years he has been staff organist for Arthur Godfrey on all of his shows.

Area library service planned

Mrs. Jean T. Craig, a member of the board of the Carnegie Public Library, represented Fayette County at the meeting of the Trustee planning Board for the Southwestern Ohio Rural Libraries (SWORL) this week in Hillsboro to finalize the Area Library Service Organization which will be submitted to the State Library Board.

SWORL, now operating under a federal grant which expires May 31, is providing telephone information "hot line" service from the Public Library of Cincinnati and Hamilton County, direct book grants to libraries, workshops, centralized preparation of books for library use, publicity materials and traveling collections of books on antiques, crafts and interior decorating.

Growing pains relieved

The prestigious South Central Ohio League, which has been trying to flex its expansion muscles for about three years now, will add a new member, effective the 1974-75 season.

The SCOL, probably the toughest league in the area between Cincinnati and Columbus, relieved its growing pains a couple of years ago by annexing neighboring Madison Plains as the seventh member.

However, Madison Plains recently decided to withdraw its membership following the 1973-74 season because of internal problems and a decision by school officials that Madison Plains could not compete with the SCOL teams.

AT THE SCOL's winter banquet, the league's Board of Control decided by a 5-1 vote to extend an invitation to Unioto High School in Ross County for membership in two years.

The Union-Scioto Board of Education this week unanimously approved a motion to accept the SCOL's invitation.

Superintendent Ralph D. Brown said the board accepted the invitation by a 5-0 vote and also agreed to withdraw from the Scioto Valley Conference, the league in which Unioto High School now competes..

Unioto, a Class A high school located just off U. S. 35 about two miles west of Chillicothe, is also a member in the Ross County League and its status in that loop remains in doubt due to probable scheduling conflicts.

"We have been considering this for quite sometime. We have been on the verge of going into Class AA the past two years, and we decided if we were going to have to compete in Class AA tournaments, we better be competing in a Class AA league."

Unioto's enrollment this year is 189 students in the upper three grades and it will become a Class AA school next year. Class A is assigned to schools on a figure from 0-189 and Class AA is1 190-399.

Only two members of the SCOL — Miami Trace and Wilmington — are in the Class AAA branch. Washington C. H., Circleville, Greenfield, Hillsboro and Madison Plains are all Class AA schools.

"The coaches, booster club, student body and even the band director were in favor of the move," Brown said. "We just hope we're not going to be a doormat."

UNIOTO BECOMES the third member in two years to withdraw from the Scioto Valley Conference. East Clinton and Logan Elm will be exiting effective this season.

But even with the addition of Unioto, it has only partially satisfied the SCOL Board of Control's wishes to increase the membership to eight teams, because of the Madison Plains withdrawal.

SCOL officials have hinted that the board is considering asking another school to join, but gave no indications.

The principals said Chillicothe and London, which had shown interest earlier in joining the SCOL, have both withdrawn their applications for membership. London will join a new league comprised of neighboring Class AA schools.

An impressive prep career

Chris Wright, the former Washington C. H. Blue Lion cager, compiled some impressive statistics in two seasons at Meadowbrook High School in Byesville.

Wright, a 5-foot-10 senior, landed a berth on the All-Eastern District Class AA first team, an honor he held a year ago also, and was the top point producer in the Ohio Valley Athletic Conference with a 30.5 point per game average.

The slick-shooting southpaw is being touted for All-Ohio accolades. She was named to the All-Ohio honorable mention list a year ago.

In 18 games Wright hit 206 of 404 field goal attempts for a 50.9 per cent mark and connected on 137 of 165 free throws for an 83 per cent average. He scored a total of 569 points and had five games in which he bucketed more than 40 points.

During two years at the Guernsey County high school, he scored 1,078 points and hit 50.3 per cent of his field goal attempts and 80.9 per cent of his free throw chances.

UCLA opens title defense

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The UCLA Bruins, a team with the strongest finishing kick the last six years, jump into the playoff pool tonight to begin defense of their NCAA basketball title.

Not only do the awesome Bruins have tradition going for them—but also the home court advantage.

"I hope that Arizona State, the University of San Francisco and Long Beach are very aware of it," says UCLA Coach John Wooden. "I want all their players to read it and think about the fact that we're playing in Pauley Pavilion."

The top-ranked Bruins have not only been unbeatable at home, though—they've also been perfect on the road. Their record 71 straight victories is the talk of college basketball. So is the fact that they've won the NCAA title six straight times.

"Arizona State has a chance but I won't bet on 'em," said Long Beach State Coach Jerry Tarkanian about UCLA's opponent in the West Regional semifinal test.

Before UCLA hosts Arizona State, Long Beach will meet San Francisco in the opener. Arizona State advanced to the regional semis with a victory last week over Oklahoma City while Long Beach moved up with a success over Weber State. Like UCLA, San Francisco drew an opening-round bye.

Six other regional playoff games will be held tonight across the country in the Mideast, Midwest and East.

Marquette meets Indiana and Austin Peay tackles Kentucky in the Mideast Regionals at Nashville, Tenn. In the Midwest at Houston, it's South Carolina against Memphis State and Southwestern Louisiana vs. Kansas State. Syracuse takes on Maryland and Penn clashes with Providence in the East Regionals at Charlotte, N.C.

Tonight's winners play in the regional finals Saturday night and the winners of those tests move into St. Louis for the championship round March 24 and March 26.

Sam Houston State, which finished the regular season as the No. 1 team in the small college rankings, was knocked out of the National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics Association championship tourney in Kansas City on Wednesday night. The previously unbeaten Bearcats fell 67-60 to New Orleans Xavier, which was helped by a late flurry of baskets from sophomore Bruce Seals.

The NCAA's College Division championships got under way at Evansville, Ind., Thursday and defending champion Roanoke fell by the wayside, losing to Kentucky Wesleyan 87-63.

'Mellowed' Ed Jucker says Bruins 'will think pride'

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A "mellowed" Ed Jucker, who feels an overtime loss 10 years ago prevented the University of Cincinnati from a UCLA-like collegiate basketball dynasty, says UCLA will be thinking pride not pressure as it opens its quest for a seventh consecutive national title tonight.

"I think Coach John Wooden's thoughts will be simple," Jucker said, noting UCLA plays Arizona State in the Western Regional tourney in Los Angeles tonight.

"He's proven how great he is," Jucker said. "I doubt if he's feeling any pressure.

However, remembering the shot that reshaped his career, Jucker says the inevitable—a streak-ending defeat . . ."is bound to happen to UCLA sooner or later. After all, they're only human."

It was 10 years ago this month that Cincinnati was on the verge of winning its third consecutive NCAA championship—an unmatched feat at that time.

But a desperation shot at the buzzer by Les Hunter gave Chicago of Loyola the overtime win and the national title. With it went Jucker's dreams.

"I definitely feel we would have cornered the market like UCLA has now," Jucker said Tuesday by telephone from Winter Park, Fla. where he is head basketball coach and director of physical education at Rollins College.

The 51-year-old Cincinnati native says he saw the handwriting on the ball: UCLA was heir apparent.

"I thought then they would keep coming," he said. "They knew what they were doing.

"We beat them by two points in the 1962 semifinals. I remember being impressed with their style. You could tell they were well-disciplined and well-coached," he said.

Jucker, who later served two years as head coach of the NBA Cincinnati Royals, had seasons of 27-3, 29-2, 28-2 when the Bearcats were national powers in the early 1960's.

"I've mellowed since then. And I think I'm a better coach now," he says.

Rollins College finished with a 13-11 record this season, Jucker's first at the school.

Tucker feels that had it not been for a loss to Wichita State, Cincinnati "could have had a victory streak equal to anyone's. We won 27 straight before that loss and 37 in a row after that."

UCLA takes a 2½-year-old win streak of 71 into tonight's game on its home floor.

Jucker says the team that beats UCLA will have to play "superhuman."

With UCLA recruiting reaping the rewards of the prestigious exposure, Jucker sees the dominance continuing even after Wooden leaves the job.

"They have the winning tradition," he said. "And that means so much."

Lion thinclads preview Friday

The second annual Blue and White indoor track meet will be held at the Washington Senior High School gymnasium starting at 5 p.m. Friday.

Fans will receive a preview of the 1973 Washington C. H. Blue Lion track team, under the direction of second-year head coach John Armstrong.

A queen and two attendants have been chosen by the WSHS student body for the indoor meet. The queen is Dianne Kimmet and the attendants are Jill Willis and Johnna Upthegrove.

Marion cage squad seeks title sweep

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marion Pleasant continues its bid tonight for a sweep of Ohio's major Class A state championship sports titles this school year.

The Spartans won the first small school football playoff crown last fall and are one of seven teams still in the running for the Class A basketball tournament title.

Pleasant risks its 22-0 record against West Liberty-Salem, 17-5, in a Dayton Class A Regional semifinal contest. Cincinnati St. Bernard, 17-6 faces Pittsburg Franklin Monroe, 21-3, in the other Dayton semifinal.

In the other tournament game tonight, unheralded Holgate, 7-14, tackles fourth-ranked Wapakoneta St. Joseph, 24-0, in the Bowling Green Class A Regional.

Former state champion Mansfield St. Peter's earned a Bowling Green Class A Regional finals spot with a come-from-behind 63-60 verdict over Upper Scioto Valley Wednesday night.

St. Peter's won the 1968 Ohio small school crown, but Hamilton Taft, the big school champion in 1962, wasn't as fortunate. The Tigers bowed to Cincinnati Elder 78-62 in the Dayton Class AAA Regional.

Springfield South, 20-3, seventh-ranked in the final Associated Press regular season poll, earned a shot at 17-4 Cincinnati Elder in the Dayton Regional finals Saturday afternoon with a 73-58 romp over Kettering Alter.

Richard Wagner aide to Reds' Bob Howsam

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— New Cincinnati Reds President Bob Howsam has promoted Richard Wagner to his assistant.

Wagner had been assistant vice president. The Nebraska native was minor league baseball executive of the year in 1957, and general manager of the Forum of Los Angeles. He was director of promotions and sales with the St. Louis Cardinals before joining the Reds in 1967.

Gerald Gottfried new Ashland cage coach

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Gerald Gottfried, a 30-year-old member of the Ohio Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame, has been named head basketball coach at Ashland College, school president Glenn L. Clayton announced today.

Aaron after Ruth's record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Old-time baseball fans who were steadfast in their belief that Babe Ruth's hallowed record of 714 home runs would never be broken, now must face reality—Hank Aaron will do it ... barring injury.

The 39-year-old Atlanta Braves' slugger, needing only 41 homers to tie Ruth's longstanding record and 42 to break it, made it emphatically clear Wednesday that he was taking dead aim on the Babe's total— and if he reaches it this season, he will quit.

"If I should get extra lucky and hit 42 homers this season, I'm planning on quitting," he said. "But my real plan, which is more realistic, is to hit at least 42 in two seasons."

Aaron, with a career total of 673 homers, including 34 last season, said his goal this year is 35 homers. That would leave him six short of Ruth's record, and make the buildup overwhelming for the 1974 campaign.

Aaron didn't hit any homers Wednesday as the winless Braves lost their fifth exhibition game, 4-3 to the Chicago White Sox. Tony Muser led the White Sox with three runs batted in, including two with a double during a three-run first inning.

Meanwhile, rookie outfielder Al Bumbry had three hits, including a run-scoring double and a game-winning single, helping the Baltimore Orioles edge the Minnesota Twins 4-3. Bumbry also drew a walk, stole a base and threw out a Minnesota runner at the plate.

Veteran Jim Lyttle, fighting for a berth on the Kansas City roster, improved his chances by driving in two runs and scoring another in the Royals' 3-2 victory over Philadelphia, the Phillies' first loss in six games.

The Boston Red Sox rallied for a 7-6 victory over the Montreal Expos on Ben Ogilvie's run-scoring double in the eighth inning. Cecil Cooper, who scored the winning run, had reached base on a two-run single and earlier hit a solo homer.

The Los Angeles Dodgers parlayed two-run homers by Von Joshua and Bill Russell and six Pittsburgh errors for a 10-2 rout over the Pirates. Joshua's was a 450-foot blast over the center field fence while Pittsburgh's Manny Sanguillen smashed a 400-foot homer over the left field fence.

The New York Yankees scored twice in the sixth inning on singles by Roy White, Graig Nettles and Felipe Alou, a walk to Ron Blomberg and a hit batsman, and went on to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 3-1.

Joe Hague drove in three runs and rookie Ken Griffey knocked in two, leading the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-3 victory over the Houston Astros.

Jerry Grote had two hits, drove in one run and scored another, sparking the New York Mets to a 6-4 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Ivan Murrell and Dave Roberts each rapped a single and a double while Dan Spillner, Bob Graczyk and Bill Laxton combined for a six-hitter as the San Diego Padres trimmed Arizona State University 4-1.

And four games were rained out—the Chicago Cubs against California, San Francisco-Milwaukee, Cleveland-Oakland, and California's "B" team against Oakland's "B" squad.

Ken Griffey given chance as Reds starting fielder

COCOA, Fla. (AP)—Ken Griffey came to the Cincinnati Reds' spring training camp figuring he had no chance to win a spot on the National League champions' roster.

Now, Reds Manager Sparky Anderson is talking of the possibility of Griffey winning a starting job in right field.

"He could put enough heat on that he could win the job," Anderson said Wednesday after the 22-year-old left-hander hit two singles and two doubles and drove in two runs as the Reds beat the Houston Astros 7-3 for their third consecutive Grapefruit League triumph.

"No one's guaranteed that spot," Anderson continued, issuing a challenge to last year's right fielder, Cesar Geronimo, and newcomer Richie Scheinblum, who were expected to battle for the post.

"No kid should have to come to camp figuring he has no chance to make it," Anderson added. "Of course, Griffey would have to be spectacular down here, and he'll have to figure as a starter. We'd want him playing every day.

"But, he catches your eye with his speed. It's something else. It's so explosive," Anderson said.

Griffey, who comes from Donora, Pa., the same hometown as hall of famer Stan Musual, spent last season at Three Rivers, Que., of the Class AA Eastern League.

He hit .318 and stole 31 bases, third in the entire Cincinnati organization behind Joe Morgan and Bobby Tolan, both Reds stars.

So far this spring Griffey has hit at a .333 clip, a respectable average that could be much higher if five line drives hadn't been directly at the defensive players.

"If they keep catching those line drives it's going to be hard to be spectacular enough to say," said Griffey.

"But I'm just going to keep trying, doing the best I can. I'll give it an all-out effort and, if I satisfy myself, that's the important thing."

Celtics win, 76ers lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics won their 60th game of the National Basketball Association season Wednesday night and the Philadelphia 76ers lost their 67th.

The Celtics can tie the NBA record for victories set by the Los Angeles Lakers last season with 69 by winning their remaining games. All the 76ers have to do to set an NBA record for most losses in one season is to lose one game out of their remaining nine.

The Celtics beat the Baltimore Bullets 111-107 and the 76ers fell to the Phoenix Suns 120-114.

In the only other NBA game, Los Angeles beat Detroit 121-122.

In the American Basketball Association Wednesday, San Diego clipped the New York Nets 108-98, Indiana beat Utah 113-106 and Virginia dumped Dallas 125-114.

John Havlicek's four points in the final 15 seconds was the margin of victory for the Celtics. Havlicek made a fall away jump shot with two defenders hounding him with 15 seconds remaining to break a 107-107 tie.

Jo-Jo White tied Havlicek for scoring honors with 27 including some clutch baskets in the fourth period.

The 76ers overcame a 19-point deficit late in the third quarter and tied their game with the Suns at 96 all. The lead changed hands seven times from that point on.

Norm Meyers leads bowling tournament

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Norm Myers, St. Louis veteran whose only title came 10 years ago, came storming from 29th place into the lead Wednesday night as qualifying play continued in the $80,000 Ebonite Open Bowling Tournament here.

The 39-year-old right-hander, who spilled 1302 pins in the event's opening six-game block earlier in the day, averaged over 240 in the second session as he rolled games of 247, 245, 258, 215, 279 and 213. Myers missed only one spare in his second set of games as he toppled 1445 pins to give him a total of 2747 and a 12-game average of 228.

Little All-American cagers named

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Green, Louisiana Tech's rebound-hungry center, and James Lister, the heart of top-ranked Sam Houston State, were among those named today to The Associated Press' 1973 Little All-American basketball team.

Joining the front-court bruisers was another talented giant from Louisiana, New Orleans Xavier's Bruce Seals, and two guards — Mike Boylan of Assumption, Mass. and Fred Smiley of Northwood, Mich.

Only Boylan was a previous All-American, making The AP's third team last year.

Green, a 6-foot-10, 196-pounder from McComb, Miss., was an obvious choice for All-American after breaking records by the basketful at the Ruston, La., school.

He started 102 straight games from his freshman year and cracked career marks for scoring average (22.9) and rebounds-per-game (15.4). Green was voted player of the year in the Southland Conference, eclipsing such major college notables at Dwight Lamar and Roy Ebron of Southwestern Louisiana.

This year, Green reached a high-water mark in scoring with a 30.9 average, good for second in the country among small college players. He had a rebound average of 15.7, also leading the Southland Conference in that department.

The senior's menacing presence in the lineup helped Louisiana Tech finish with an 18-8 record and the No. 8 ranking in The AP poll. "He was the whole team," said a school spokesman.

Lister, another senior in the 6-10 range with a little more beef on his frame (207 pounds), was the spark behind Sam Houston State's 25-0 regular season record and No. 1 ranking in the final AP small college poll. His averages of 20 points and 16 rebounds a game didn't tell the whole story. Along with his gaudy offensive talents, he was one of the country's best shot-blockers.

Seals connected for 25.9 points a game and was mostly responsible for putting Xavier into the NAIA's post-season tournament. He's considered by some to be nearly in the class of Green, perhaps the country's No. 1 pro-prospect from the college division ranks.

Boylan, tall for a guard at 6-5, averaged 22 points a game and has been termed "the best player Assumption has ever had" by his coach, Joe O'Brien. Smiley, a 5-11, ball-handling wizard and one of the best shooters in the country, finished with a 31.6 scoring average for fourth place.

The AP's second team consists of Lenard Robinson of Tennessee State; Joel Copeland of Old Dominion; Morgan State's Marvin Webster; William "June" Harris of North Carolina A&T and Hershel Lewis of Winona, Minn., State.

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1973 College Division All-America basketball team as selected by the Associated Press:

New fees proposed for Ohio state parks

Adjustments of fees charged for the use of some Ohio state park special facilities are being considered by the Department of Natural Resources. An increase in boat dock rentals is proposed to reduce the amount taxpayers subsidize these facilities by bringing the fees more closely in line with dock costs.

Jack Miller, chief of the department's division of parks and recreation, said the proposed fee changes and some minor park rule changes will be the subject of a public hearing April 4 at 9:30 a.m. in Hearing Room No. 2 of the Ohio Departments Building, 65 S. Front St., Columbus.

Being considered, in addition to the boat dock rental increase, are an increase in the fees charged at the more deluxe camping areas in state parks, as well as both reductions and increases in green fees at state park golf courses.

At the same time, Natural Resources Director William B. Nye said the state is forced by contracts signed with Ohio Inns., Inc., by the previous state administration to increase room rates at the four state park lodges operated by Ohio Inns by $1 a night. The lodges are in Hueston Woods, Salt Fork, Punderson and Burr Oak state parks.

Nye said that under the previous administration's contracts Ohio Inns also had a right to increase cabin rental charges at the four parks where it operates the lodges.

"Through our negotiations, the company has voluntarily agreed to waive its right to cabin fee increases," Nye said. He added that rates at the recently opened Shawnee State Lodge in Portsmouth State Park, which is operated by Natural Resources personnel, will remain unchanged.

Miller said the principal fee increase that will be considered at the public hearing is for rental of the 3,878 state-owned boat docks, which presently rent for $40 a year. The proposed new rates are $42 a year for boats 14 feet or less in length $4.50 per additional foot of length through 18 feet and $6.50 for each foot over 18 feet.

"OUR COST STUDIES show that the $40 annual fee comes nowhere near covering the costs of building and operating the boat docks," Miller said. "It also is far below the fees charged by private marinas for docks of comparable quality, which rent for $100 to $150 a year, usually at a rate based on the length of the boat."

The cost study showed each state-owned boat dock costs the state $121.35 a year, including $103 for amortization of construction costs and $18.35 for operating and maintenance costs, Miller said.

"I would much prefer to build boat launching ramps, which can serve hundreds of boaters daily, and at less than one-sixth the cost per user, rather than continuing to have the taxpayer subsidize more boat dock users. There are nearly 330,000 boats in Ohio and only 3,878 state-owned docks, which means that in any year fewer than two per cent of the boat owners can rent our docks," Nye said.

He said a graduated dock rental fee would be fairer to the small boat owners, who are the majority of owners, and would justify the additional costs of providing sufficiently wide dock spaces for the longer and wider boats.

NEW YEAR-ROUND rates will take effect April 1 at Salt Fork and Hueston Woods state lodges. Nightly rates will be $16 for single occupancy and $21 for double occupancy at Salt Fork, and $15 single and $20 double occupancy at Hueston Woods.

At Punderson and Burr Oak state lodges, the increase will be seasonal from June 15 through Oct. 15, making in-season rates at both lodges $15 per night for single occupancy and $19 for double occupancy. During the off-season, the Punderson and Burr Oak rates will revert to the present $14 single and $18 double occupancy.

At the 19 camping areas retaining Class A status, an in-season fee of $1.50 per night is being considered, up from the present $2.25. In-season rates are in effect from April 1 through Oct. 31. All Class B area rates, as well as off-season Class A area rates, would remain unchanged. Rates for the areas reclassified from A to B also remain unchanged.

The extra charge for campsite electricity, which presently varies from 25 cents to 50 cents a night, is proposed to be set at a uniform 35 cents, representing a slight reduction on average.

A REDUCED nine-hole weekday green fee is being considered at the three 18-hole state park golf courses. The fee would be $2 at the courses in Salt Fork and Punderson state parks and $2.50 at the Hueston Woods course.

Research essential chemists are told

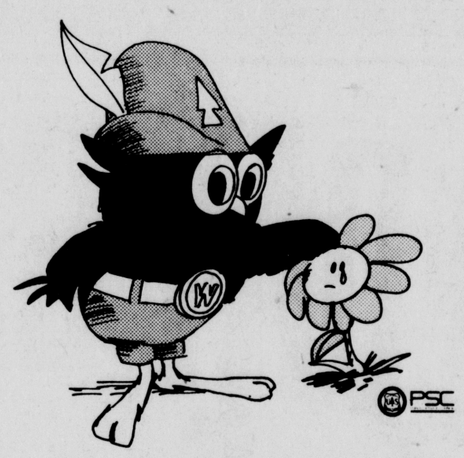

NEW YORK (AP) — The semi-annual meeting of the Manufacturing Chemists Assn. here heard Dr. Earle B. Barnes, president of Dow Chemical U.S.A. say:

"Research is not an option open to us, like white sidewall tires. It is a necessary component of our business, as integral to our operations as the wheels or axles are to an automobile."

Dr. Barnes said that Dow's worldwide research expenditures, which were $51 million in 1961, grew to $95 million in 1971 and exceeded $100 million in 1972.

BYPASS BRIDGEWORK — Workmen for the W.J. Seidensticker Co., a subcontractor on the U.S. 35 bypass project, work with the assistance of a large crane to position a piling into position before it is driven into the ground as an anchor for a bridge abutement. The work is being done on Paint Creek bridge at Creek Road. Paul Rooney, project supervisor, said contractors were presently concentrating on birdgework since soil conditions were still too wet for other work. The structure in the foreground is a pier in the middle of the creek.

Dates are set for B-I-E programs

Plans for the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce's Business-Industry-Education Day, annually held for the graduating seniors in the two Fayette County high schools, are taking shape.

Bruce Galloway, chairman of the chamber's educational committee which is heading up the planning for this year's B-I-E Day, said the program will be held Wednesday and Thursday, May 2-3, in Washington Senior and Miami Trace high schools.

The educational committee met this week with Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor of the Washington C. H. City schools and Superintendent Guy M. Foster of the Fayette County schools to work out some of the details for the 1973 program.

The committee has also drafted a tentative liet of panelists representing several different professions in the Washington C. H. area to speak to the graduating seniors at the two-day session.

James Dunn, executive vice president of the Washington C. H. Area Chamber of Commerce, said all the prospective panelists will be contacted later this week to determine their interest in participating in the program.

Plans call for the sessions opening in each high school with an address from a keynote speaker who will set the tone for the program. Following the speaker's address, each of the panelists will have 10 or 15 minutes to review their particular professions and students will be given an opportunity to ask questions concerning the profession.

A banquet will close the B-I-E Day program on Thursday night. The program will be critiqued and the students will given another opportunity to discuss the professions further with the panelists.

The site and further details concerning the banquet are being completed by the educational committee.

Engineers host district meeting

Fayette County professional engineers were hosts for the monthly meeting of the Southern Ohio Chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers at the Terrace Lounge Wednesday evening.

Richard Keiser, Snow Hill Rd., was the master of ceremonies and introduced Omar A. Schwart, who related some of his experiences during the 12 years he was judge of the Fayette County Probate-Juvenile Court.

There were 22 members and guests. The chapter includes professional engineers in eight southern Ohio counties.

Country singer killed

GOODLETTSVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Carl Phillips, 42, a country music singer and songwriter, was killed Wednesday in an accident.

Columnist against unlimited shield for newsmen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Syndicated columnist Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Tulsa, Okla., said Wednesday it would be "ludicrous" to give newsmen the same blanket protections now accorded to priests, lawyers and doctors.

Jones, editor and publisher of the Tulsa Tribune, said he does not support proposals that would give reporters the right to shield their news sources in all matters.

He said reporters do not deserve the same legal rights afforded a priest and his parishioner, a doctor and his patient and a lawyer and his client.

However, he said he supports a limited news shield that would require reporters to divulge their sources in criminal matters, but would prevent "badgering" by politicians and government officials in noncriminal affairs.
